Third Strong Nazi Attack Repulsed

1,500 Yards Lost at Anzio Quickly Regained by Allies

NAPLES, March 2 (AP).—Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark, visiting the Allied beachhead south of Rome today after a powerful two-day attack by three tank-led German divisions, brought out word tonight that the offensive had been repulsed, that ground lost to the enemy had been regained and that the beachhead situation was well in hand.

Ground troops, artillery and heavy bombers rolled back the third strong German attack in the 40 days since the landings.

The Allies threw the Germans back with heavy casualties after they had penetrated for 1,500 yards—nearly a mile—into the heart of the Anzio beachhead defences with the big offensive launched early Tuesday. The battle raged through Wednesday.

Clark, commander of the Allied Fifth Army, spent nearly all of today with the troops in the field, going far forward. In one instance a German shell hit the road harmlessly behind the general's party only 30 seconds after the officers drove by.

Upon his return to Fifth Army headquarters, General Clark said he was convinced that Allied control of the beachhead now is firmly established, and he was enthusiastic over the manner in which the men turned back the attacking foe and then rewon the lost ground.

He told British troops on the beachhead that he was confident the Allies could repel any attacks the Nazis now might launch, and said the outcome of the battle Tuesday and Wednesday was a setback for the German army.

Amid a relative calm that followed two days and nights of savage fighting, four-engined bombers swung over the battlefield today in clear weather and poured thousands of fragmentation bombs on Nazi troops and on the enemy's gun positions ringing the beachhead.

The Germans struck this time with only about half the force they employed in their costly offensive down the Carroceto-Anzio highway against the British section of the beachhead two weeks ago. With Nazi infantry riding on the broad decks of 60-ton "Tiger" tanks, Gen. Eberhard Von Mackensen's forces jammed their way forward at dawn Tuesday along a 1,000-yard front in the centre of the ten-mile stretch between Carroceto and Cisterna.

Before the American troops and their curtain of artillery fire succeeded in stemming the Nazi power drive, official reports indicated the enemy overran an important road junction and was shoving down a highway toward the village of Campo Morto, seven miles from the Allied supply port of Nettuno. The American counter-attack, launched at 7 p.m. Tuesday, regained the road junction.

From Europe Day by Day—

THE TIMES, London

News and Comment on International Events selected from The Times daily and published in The Daily Colonist by special arrangement with The Vancouver Daily Province.

(Copyright 1944, by Southam Co.)

LONDON, March 2. — The main obstacle to the Finns getting out of the war at once, says The Times' diplomatic correspondent, is the presence of the German Army, perhaps 100,000 men, in Northern Finland.

It has no intention of surrendering without fighting, and the Finns fear their country may be turned into a battlefield, like Italy.

Many of these Far Northern troops are Austrians, and by no means keen to continue in the war. But they are well armed and might be stirred to put up a fight.

For the Finns, says The Times, the best way would be to ask the Red Army to enter the country and destroy or capture the Germans at once, for every delay allows them to prepare defences or arrange for their retreat, if necessary, through the difficult mountain region of Norway.

The Nazis obviously will do all they can to keep the Finns in the war. But at the moment there is not much they can effectively do.

The Soviet armistice terms are particularly generous, considering what damage the Finns have done in Russia and especially to Leningrad. Even the Magyars admit Moscow has been more reasonable than could have been expected.

* * *

Nowhere are events watched more closely than in Bulgaria, whose Government has already been putting out peace feelers.

The bombing of Sofia has had an immense moral effect and has discredited Bulgaria's rulers more than anything else that has happened.

Distribution of leaflets demanding peace is already widespread in Bulgaria and it is not impossible the Government will be overthrown.

The Rumanian Government is also watching Finland and noting the terms Russia has offered.

* * *

The Russians have forced a passage of the River Narva and are already inside Estonia. They have cut the Talinn-Narva strategic railway and are closer than ever to Pskov.

In the south the Germans show no intention of abandoning their Dnieper bend positions without further battles. The new Red Army thrust is now directed toward Kherson.

* * *

All signs point to a renewed German offensive against the Allies' beachhead of Anzio, says The Times' military correspondent. The enemy is probing the Anglo-American defences and making determined thrusts.

At the same time, troop concentrations are seen from the sky to be on a considerable scale.

Despite past losses, Mackensen can launch another offensive if he wants to.

"From our point of view," says The Times' expert, "the situation is one that cannot be indefinitely prolonged without an almost intolerable strain and serious shipping losses.

"We are sitting in this relatively confined beachhead and continually unloading fresh supplies and material within effective range of hostile artillery.

"We have so far been unable to break out or break through on the southern front of the Fifth Army, though in the latter case the cause may be bad weather.

"The Germans are not likely to succeed in eliminating the beachhead, but it might be worth their losses to constrict it still further."

Awarded Damages

NOTTINGHAM, England, March 2 (CP-Reuter's).—Damages of £450 (about $1,925) were awarded in Assizes here today to the husband of a woman, who was decapitated when an R.A.F. pilot flew low over the field where she was working.

The judge gave the former airman, who admitted negligence and who has been demoted from pilot officer to aircraftman, permission to appeal.

Finland to Negotiate

Party Newspaper Says Effort Will Be Made

STOCKHOLM, March 3 (Friday) (AP).—The Finnish newspaper Social Demokratti, mouthpiece of the Social Democratic Party which is the strongest in Finland's Parliament, indicated today that the Finnish Government intends to make every effort to negotiate an armistice with Russia.

"It is to be believed we will try to move along the road of negotiation if there is even the slightest possibility to do so with freedom and independence preserved," the newspaper said.

An informed Finnish source said the article was inspired by the majority view of Parliament, which gave the Government a vote of confidence Tuesday at a secret session.

Censorship refused to pass accounts of the Parliament's vote.

Earlier, a Finnish Foreign Office spokesman said that the Finnish Cabinet was giving the peace dilemma "major consideration," but there was no official indication that the Government had reached a decision on whether to accept Moscow's terms.

The Social Demokratti expressed the opinion that the Moscow terms were "meant only to form the basis for further negotiation and that Finland will have a chance to express its own views.

Plan Refund Of City Debt

Refunding of Victoria's bonded debt, amounting to $12,000,000 is planned, and while complete details are being withheld, steps are being taken to prepare the necessary legislation at the present sitting of the Legislature, it was made known yesterday.

In announcing that the move was under way, Mayor Andrew McGavin stated that the plan will mean a minimum annual interest saving to the city of approximately $60,000. It is the first big financial deal since the city carried through the Fortin refunding plan in 1937.

It was stated yesterday that the request for necessary legislation had the support of Premier John Hart and that the drafting of a special bill is proceeding. No other action, other than getting the consent of the Legislature, is planned immediately, it is understood.

The city is at present paying 4½ per cent on outstanding debentures. Under the refunding plan proposed to come into effect after the next Victory Loan, the Mayor and civic officials expect to have that cut to 4 per cent.

Plans call for raising enough funds to pay off all debentures payable in Canada, New York and London thereby freeing the city of the uncertainties of the foreign exchange market and pegging retirement charges at their face value in Canadian funds.

Planes Block Jap Shipping

HEADQUARTERS OF THE 14TH U.S. AIR FORCE IN CHINA, March 2 (AP).—Bombers of the United States 14th Air Force, some for the first time completely manned by the Chinese for a Chinese-American composite wing, have established a new air front virtually denying the East and South China Seas to Japanese shipping.

Japanese cargo ships have been bottled up in harbors or rivers or forced from port to port along tedious Chinese coastal routes under cover of darkness, or have been compelled to skirt Formosa to the east where they are more exposed to submarine attack.

Found Dead

SASKATOON, March 2 (CP).—William Grimes, reeve of Glaslyn, was found dead in the bath tub of his hotel room tonight. Police said that he apparently suffered a heart attack when filling the bath.

He was a delegate to the Saskatchewan municipalities convention in session here.

HALIFAX, March 2 (CP).—A howling blizzard that brought the heaviest snowfall of the year raged across the Maritimes for 24 hours last week, crippling transportation, partially tying up public services, disrupting shipping and leaving the seaboard area buried under great drifts. For security reasons, publication of news of the Winter's severest storm was withheld outside the Maritimes until now.

R.A.F. Heavy Bombers Roar Over Europe

LONDON, March 3 (Friday) (AP). — R.A.F. heavy bombers streamed out over the southeast coast last night for their second successive night assault on German-held Europe.

The big black bombers went out as United States heavy bombers returned to their British bases after hammering industrial targets in Southwest Germany, the French invasion coast and Chartres airfield, 50 miles southwest of Paris, United States medium bombers hit the railway centre of Amiens.

The daylight raiding force of Allied planes was believed to have been one of the most powerful air armadas ever seen over the Channel.

United States fighters, along with R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. Spitfires, escorted the bombers, presenting a formidable front which few German interceptors rose to challenge. R.C.A.F. Spitfires also escorted United States medium bombers raiding Northern France.

Eighteen German fighters were shot down by the Allied escort, while the bombers' toll was not immediately announced. From the day's operations 11 bombers and three fighters were missing, the American Air Command announced tonight. All the Canadian planes returned.

The strong assault was the second phase of the one-two punch technique developed by the Allied air forces. Exact targets were not announced immediately, but the area was the same as that in which the R.C.A.F. and R.A.F. Wednesday night made a 600-bomber assault on Stuttgart with a record low loss of four R.A.F. bombers.

Counting cross-Channel assaults during the day it was estimated that between 2,000 and 3,000 Allied planes of all types had been flown against German targets since the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. set out for Stuttgart last night.

Clouds still covered Southwest Germany as they did Wednesday night, but the fires set by the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. served as beacons for the Americans, and lack of visibility failed to shield the targets from the Allied overcast-bombing methods.

Returning American flyers said that, as on Tuesday's long trip to Brunswick, Wednesday's thrust failed to coax up the battered German fighter force, and anti-aircraft fire was their only hindrance.

Hundreds of short-range planes of the R.A.F. and American tactical air forces raced back and forth across the English Channel throughout the day.

Will Not Deal With Argentina

MONTEVIDEO, March 2 (CP-Reuter's).—A reliable source disclosed today all American republics except Bolivia will declare tomorrow that they will not recognize the Argentine Government of Acting President Edelmiro Farrell.

BUENOS AIRES, March 2 (AP).—Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, Acting President of Argentina, declared today Argentine foreign policy would not be modified, and that close co-operation with the other American republics was an aim of his temporary regime.

In an interview at the Government House General Farrell, who took over the executive power from President Gen. Pedro Ramirez a week ago in a bloodless coup, indicated he intended to prepare the country for elections in the shortest time possible.

Farrell said, "I am occupying the presidency only temporarily, fulfilling a mission which I accepted six months ago when I was made vice-president."

He rejected the idea his Government intended to change the country's foreign policy, which includes a recent rupture of relations with the Axis.

Britain's Army Ready to Invade

LONDON, March 2 (CP).—War Secretary Sir James Grigg said today that Britain's army, fully equipped and reorganized into the greatest possible striking force, is ready for the invasion of Europe.

Sir James told the House of Commons that everything possible has been done for unification of the command and said that the troops, finely trained and tempered, will be even better than the Eighth Army.

He said Germany is bound to crack eventually and disclosed that considerable work has been done toward solving problems of administration for the conquered Reich. Staffs are being trained for the task.

EXCEED LOAN TOTAL

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP).—Treasury Secretary Henry Morgenthau said tonight the people of the United States answered the treasury's Fourth War Loan call with $16,720,000,006—$2,720,000,000 above the goal set for the month-long campaign that ended February 15.

Polish Patriots Taking Big Toll

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP).—Polish underground forces during 1943 killed 1,163 Gestapo agents, 18 higher German officials and 740 German soldiers guarding prisoners, Wladyslaw Banaczyk, Minister of Interior in the Polish Government in London, stated today in an account made public here by the Polish Telegraph Agency.

He said the underground had 81 encounters with German forces and, in 19 raids on German prisons and transports, freed 652 captured guerrillas. He said sabotage included blowing up three ammunition trains and a gasoline train, 474 war material transports, six bridges and nine railway stations, and derailment of 81 trains. Damage has been done to 2,013 locomotives and 9,980 trucks.

The Polish underground loyal to the Government in London is aiding the Russian army's offensive against the Germans, he added.

Aid Sent to Los Negros

Reconnaissance Turns Into Occupation Drive

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, March 3 (Friday) (AP).—Heavy Allied reinforcements have been landed on Los Negros Island in the Admiralty Islands, turning the surprise American thrust against the Japanese from reconnaissance in force into a campaign for complete occupation.

An Allied communique today said the original landing Tuesday caught the numerically-superior Japanese force so completely by surprise that it was "out-manoeuvred into dispersed position," and the reconnaissance was "immediately developed into a penetration which is being exploited into complete occupation."

The reinforcements were landed yesterday and were reported ready to push beyond the original beachhead after the first invasion troops had withstood repeated Japanese infiltration and mortar attacks Wednesday night.

The enemy attacks were against the thinly-held American perimeter around Momote airfield, the 5,000-foot-long airstrip which was captured shortly after the Tuesday landing at the seaward edge of the airfield. Early Wednesday morning the troopers had thrown back a Japanese counter-attack, taking a toll of nearly 100 enemy dead.

Fighting with their backs to the beachhead, the cavalrymen beat off all attacks until morning brought boatloads of men and equipment.

With the perimeter defences firmly established, restoration work immediately commenced on the airfield which was pitted by bombs unloaded on it during the pre-landing bombardment.

American destroyers shelled Japanese shore installations at Cape St. George and Borpop, on New Ireland Island, silencing enemy batteries and starting fires.

A Japanese troop-laden barge was sunk off New Ireland, and Allied medium bombers and fighters again raided Rabaul, the badly battered enemy base on the northeastern tip of New Britain.

Heavy bombers hit a 7,000-ton Japanese cargo ship off Holandia, on the northeastern coast of New Guinea, leaving it in a sinking condition.

Sixth Reprieve For Buchalter

ALBANY, N.Y., March 2 (AP).—Governor Thomas E. Dewey tonight stayed the execution of Louis (Lepke) Buchalter for the sixth time pending a last-ditch appeal of the chief of "Murder, Inc." to the United States Supreme Court.

Charles D. Breitel, counsel to the governor, released a statement at 9:50 p.m. which said:

"Counsel for Louis Buchalter has advised me that he has arranged to make application to the Supreme Court of the United States for writ of certiorari to be submitted at noon on Saturday, March 4.

"Accordingly I have requested Commissioner Lyons (John A. Lyons, head of the correction department) to postpone the executions of Louis Buchalter, Emanuel Weiss and Louis Capone until later in this week. Under the circumstances there is no need for a respite by the governor at this time."

Russians Fling Germans From North Strongpoints

May By-Pass Narva and Pskov And Drive to Capital Cities

LONDON, March 2 (AP).—Moscow announced tonight that the Red Army captured 30 communities today in a drive toward Ostrov, 35 miles south of Pskov on the great trunk railway to Warsaw, while northward around the Estonian stronghold of Narva the Russians improved their bridgehead and flung the Germans from several strongpoints.

The drive upon Ostrov was a flanking attack by the Russians cutting south of the Nazi bastion and aiming at the second of three railways by which the Germans might retreat. The first was cut Wednesday when the Pskov-Idritsa-Polotsk line was crossed at several points.

Moscow dispatches said the Red Army might not wait for mopping up operations in Pskov and Narva, but instead might by-pass these towns and plunge ahead toward Tallinn (Reval) and Riga, capitals of Estonia and Latvia.

The Moscow communique, recorded by the Soviet radio monitor, made no mention of the fighting in the Vitebsk sector of White Russia, where on Wednesday it reported the capture of 30 localities.

Dispatches from Russia, however, said the Vitebsk operations carried great power and the offensive was still to reach its climax. The Germans' first lines, protecting the almost surrounded city, were reported breached Wednesday.

The communique tonight indicated major gains of the day were made in the Pskov fighting, especially to the south, where on Wednesday the Russians were nine miles east of Ostrov with the capture of Kashino.

Among the communities reported captured were Zamoshye and Roghanka, 11 and 12 miles northeast of Ostrov and the rail stations Soshikhino and Sergino, 15 and 19 miles southeast of Ostrov on the Pskov-Idritsa line.

Unofficial reports ffrom Moscow said Red Army tommy-gunners were fighting in the streets of suburbs around Pskov, and German broadcasts said the battle for the city was entering its decisive phase.

Nazi broadcasts stressed the fighting southwest of Narva, where it claimed fresh German divisions had been brought into action. Here the Russians had hacked out a bridgehead across the Narova River south of Narva and swung northwest to cut the Narva-Tallinn railway nine miles west of Narva and three miles from the Gulf of Finland.

Few Raids but Many Bombs

Five Smashes at Nazi Europe in February

LONDON, March 3 (CP).—R.A.F. Bomber Command aircraft, including R.C.A.F. squadrons, battered Germany on five February nights with a bomb tonnage half as great again as the Germans dropped on Britain in the 11 months of the 1940-41 heavy raids.

The massive raids on the only five nights when meteorologists called the weather good rocked the Reich with probably 10,000 tons of bombs, compared with the 7,500 estimated to have been hurled on Britain in blitz days.

In addition, there were 19 other night raids on Germany which the R.A.F. and R.C.A.F. described officially as "small-scale"—by modern standards.

Objectives in occupied territory were raided on eight nights on a minor scale and intruder operations were carried out 22 nights, many enemy airfields being bombed during these attacks.

Medium and light fighter-bombers of the R.A.F. 2nd Tactical Air Force flew nearly 3,000 bombing sorties in 20 days and offensive sorties were flown every day of the month. Military objectives in Northern France were bombed 19 days.

Sixty-five vessels of all kinds were hit by aircraft of the Tactical Air Force which was active against shipping 11 days and five nights. Coastal Command aircraft on nine anti-shipping missions attacked another 27 vessels.

Bomber Command's mine-laying programme was the heaviest of any month since last April.

Allies Stop All Aid to Turkey

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP).—United States lend lease and British mutual aid shipments to Turkey were understood tonight to have been suspended in a move apparently linked with vigorous military and diplomatic preparations for the Anglo-American invasion of Europe.

The action, taken by Britain with full Allied approval, cuts Turkey off, at least temporarily, from her sources of arms and other military supplies, and confronts her with the necessity of deciding whether to go more deeply into the war on the United Nations' side or continue a policy of neutrality, favorable to the Allies but in some respects helpful to Germany.

Bomb Marshalls

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP).—United States Army bombers dumped nearly 80 tons of bombs on four airfields on Japanese-held atolls in the Marshall Islands Tuesday. The navy, reporting the raids today, said anti-aircraft fire was light and none of the attacking planes was damaged.

Churchill Says Crisis Now Passed

LONDON, March 2 (CP-Reuter's).—Prime Minister Churchill today told a luncheon of the Royal College of Physicians that his "patient"—Britain—is no longer in mortal danger but is restive and impatient.

"I have a patient whom I have been looking after for some years, as you may know," he said, "and I am glad to be able to assure you that he is no longer in mortal danger; on that I can give you absolute assurance."

Two on Trial Make Escape in Ambulance

LOS ANGELES, March 2 (AP).—While a Superior Court jury started its third day of deliberation in their case, Amil Weller and Edwin Easley, charged with the murder of a dance hall proprietor during an attempted robbery, escaped from the county jail on the ninth floor of the Hall of Justice and fled in an ambulance.

With the steel leg of a jail bench, they knocked out a deputy sheriff and an elevator operator, overpowered another elevator operator and dropped the elevator cage to the bottom floor of the building.

There they leaped into a city ambulance that had been left by its driver, and sped out a rear driveway.

Nazi Air Bases On Bay of Biscay

LONDON, March 3 (Friday) (CP).—A Tass report from Lisbon said today German engineers have been building secret air bases for German use on the Spanish coast of the Bay of Biscay.

The Soviet news agency quoted "persons close to Madrid military circles" and said "certain Spanish airdromes, in particular those at Bilbao, Oviedo and Santander, are often used by German military air forces for operations over the Atlantic."

Government Wins, 63-40

Stormy Session in Britain's Commons

LONDON, March 2 (CP).—The Government emerged from a House of Commons division tonight with its smallest majority yet after an angry session when members seeking pay increases for the armed forces were defeated, 63-40. Had the division been forced an hour or so earlier during the long, stormy session, the Government might have been defeated, observers said.

Most speakers of all parties in the debate urged the increases and some asked that the pay be raised to equal that of United States and Dominion troops whose pay is much higher than the four-shillings (about 88 cents) received by British privates.

Basic daily pay for American troops is $1.65, while Canadians receive $1.30, Australians $2, New Zealanders $1.50, and South Africans $1.25.

Sir James Grigg, War Secretary, said it would cost about $400,000,000 (about $1,800,000,000) to carry out proposals for pay increases. The Government could not possibly meet it and it would involve inflation on the widest scale.

At the end of the sitting, Foreign Secretary Eden, leading the House, promised the Government would inquire into the whole question of army pay and allowances. He said the two principles of raising pay and allowances to those of Dominion troops or industrial pay must be excluded.

The sitting, one of the longest in months, kept members in the House until 10 p.m.

Barely one-sixth of the House, which has a normal membership of 615, was present when the vote came on an amendment by Dennis Kendall, Independent, to the main motion for adoption of the army estimates. Ten Conservatives voted against the Government and a dozen members abstained from voting.

Seek to Avoid Strike

NAPLES, March 2 (AP).—Lt. Col. Charles Poletti, of the Allied Military Government, sought today to prevent a protest strike against Prime Minister Churchill's support of the Badoglio regime by substituting a mass meeting of Naples workers.

A token stoppage had been called for Saturday.

Spokesmen for 18 Italian labor leaders, who conferred with Poletti today, said they would make a decision at another meeting with him tomorrow.

States Dr. Carrothers Misquoted

VANCOUVER, March 2 (CP).—Demands in the British Columbia Legislature yesterday for dismissal of Dr. W. A. Carrothers, chairman of the Public Utilities Commission, were countered today by the University of British Columbia Economics Society, which claimed criticism of Dr. Carrothers was based on a garbled university newspaper report.

The quotation in The Ubyssey was incorrect and was later retracted by the newspaper, Wilma Smith, president of the U.B.C. Economic Society, said. "The impression Dr. Carrothers left at the meeting was that public ownership is entirely likely but he did not appear as a crusader for either public or private ownership."

Despite the retraction by The Ubyssey editors, R. C. MacDonald (Conservative-Coalition—Dewdney) reaffirmed today his demand made in the Legislature yesterday for instant dismissal of the chairman of the Public Utilities Commission. Mr. MacDonald said "he felt sure" The Ubyssey retraction had been made at Dr. Carrothers' request.

The Power of People to Give

Today a gallant man died that freedom should prevail. Today a valiant fighting man was wounded, and because of the miracles of science his chances of life are greater than in former years. Today a fighting man fell into the hands of the foe. Every day there is increasing need for the services of the Red Cross. Dried blood serum, one of the great life-saving restoratives of this day and age, must be kept on the march to the fighting men. Parcels to sustain ill-fed prisoners must be sent. Surgical dressings, special drugs, foods, vitamin tablets—comforts and supplies of all kinds, well within the power of people to give, must go to the armed forces. The Red Cross must be supported.

Warren Convicted

HARTFORD, Conn., March 2 (AP).—A Federal court jury which deliberated nearly seven hours today convicted George P. Warren, of Woodbridge, former aircraft company president, of sending a threatening letter and exploding rat trap to a one-time business associate. Warren will be sentenced March 13.

He has denied all knowledge of a package received last October by John J. O'Grady, vice-president of the Bristol Aeronautical Company of New Haven. Three blank cartridges fixed in a rat trap exploded when the package was opened by O'Grady's secretary, frightening but not harming her.

Drew Critical of Ottawa's Action on Health Insurance

TORONTO, March 2 (CP).—Premier Drew today told the Ontario Legislature "it is most unfortunate" that the revised Federal Health Insurance Plan was presented Wednesday to the House of Commons Social Security Committee in Ottawa without prior consultation with the provinces.

His Government "is not merely ready but anxious" to co-operate with the Dominion Government, said the Premier who rose to speak as the House opened, but "we shall insist that there be consultations on all matters relating to both the provinces and the Dominion."

In a busy afternoon, prelude to its first night sitting of the session tonight, the House sat in committee to report ten bills for third reading.

It was on such matters as the Health Insurance Plan that he had requested a Dominion-Provincial conference, Premier Drew said in his criticism of the presentation of the plan to the Commons committee. He added he had been officially informed by the Federal Government that it was not now possible to fix a date for such a conference.

Because the plan was presented to a committee it was not possible to comment on it directly, as it was "in a state of suspended animation" and might be further revised.

The Government of Ontario "is not a subsidiary Government," said the Premier. "There is one field of authority for us, one for the Dominion Government and some overlapping. If there is to be effective co-operation, it must be co-operation."

There were cheers from both sides of the House when he asserted that "this Government intends to insist on the constitutional rights of the Province of Ontario," although his administration "has no desire to place obstacles in the way" of the Federal Government, but "we shall insist that there be consultation on all matters relating to both the province and the Dominion."

In answer to a question by E. B. Jolliffe, Opposition leader, the Premier said health insurance was only one of a number of matters in which the province had taken the initiative in approaching the Dominion.

Need Secondary Forest Industry

Exhaustion of timber resources in the Cranbrook and Fernie districts has caused the shutdown of mills and left ghost towns where once there were prosperous communities, William Mercer, research chief of the Bureau of Economics and Statistics, said before Mr. Justice Gordon McG. Sloan, commissioner of the forest inquiry in the Victoria Courthouse.

Lumberton, which one had a monthly payroll of $50,000, was practically an abandoned town; the ghost town of Jaffray had once had 200 residents. Cranbrook, Mr. Mercer said, which was the centre of tremendous logging activity 40 years ago, was now dependent upon the Sullivan Mine at Kimberley. Since the decrease of timber output the town's population had decreased from 3,200, which it claimed in the mid 20's to 2,568.

"Most of the accessible timber has been logged off; the annual cut has decreased till it was not enough to support industry. My report shows the effect on community and business life," he told the commissioner.

Mr. Mercer made his report following a two-week survey of the Fernie and Cranbrook districts to determine the effect of fast-disappearing timber resources in those centres.

The witness also gave a picture of employment conditions as compared to timber cut. While the latter showed an increase of 1.61 per cent yearly over the past 21 years, the number of wage-earners had decreased at the rate of 2.4 per cent annually.

"In 1922 there were 11,600 men employed for each billion board feet cut; in 1938 there were 8,500 men, and in 1939 the figure was 7,500. Technical improvements in logging methods and in sawmills made greater output possible with less personnel.

Mr. Mercer recommended secondary industries to employ the surplus men. "Fewer men are employed each year in all logging industry," he stated.

Roscoe M. Brown, head of Vancouver Forest Products Laboratory at U.B.C., called to give evidence, told H. W. Davey, counsel for the commission, that research was of utmost importance in learning to utilize forest products. Gilbert Hatcher and Harold Bassett were also called.

The forest inquiry was adjourned till March 27 following Mr. Mercer's testimony.

Crash Puts Three Girls in Hospital

Three girls suffered injuries that sent them to Jubilee Hospital when the car in which they were riding was turned over in a collision shortly after 11 p.m. at View and Quadra Streets. City police charged Ole Sorenson, 808 Lampson Street, driver of the other car in the crash, with dangerous driving.

The three girls are: Vera Blackmore, 1420 Fort Street, suffering cut lip and other injuries; Rosemary Barber, 915 Caledonia Avenue, shaken up, and Barbara Curtis, 1137 Johnson Street, suffering back injuries but resting comfortably.

A fourth, Ellen Carnell, 1407 Vining Street, was taken by a passing motorist to St. Joseph's Hospital, treated for minor injuries and taken home.

Sorenson was driving west and was in collision with a car driven north by John S. Phillips, 704 Vancouver Street, police reported. Both cars were reported considerably damaged. Passengers in the Sorenson car were: Ordinary Seaman Strachen, R.C.N.V.R., Ethel Simpson and Rudy Costango, 1168 North Park Street. None was hurt.

Injured in Blast

BRILLIANT, March 2 (CP).—A heavy dynamite blast, set off to blow out the coffer dam in the tail race of the Kootenay engineering dam project here, caused slight injuries to three men Tuesday.

Although warning was given, some workers had to dive for cover when the big charge—94 boxes of dynamite—went off, and three men, hit on their heads by falling rocks, suffered wounds which required stitches. Some windows were broken, but property damage otherwise was practically nil.

Plan to Discuss Postwar Careers

OTTAWA, March 2 (CP).—Air Minister Power said today in the Commons that "personnel consultants" have been appointed to discuss postwar careers with R.C.A.F. personnel, helping men who want to help themselves in getting re-established after the war.

Maj. Power said he now is looking for an officer with fighting experience and able to speak "the overseas man's language" to act as director of demobilization. Systems of returning men to civil life on a priority basis were being considered. He did not favor keeping men in uniform until work was found for them.

The minister spoke in continued debate on the $3,650,000,000 war appropriation resolution.

At the opening of today's sitting Douglas Abbott, Parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Ilsley, said the proposed industrial development bank will be a subsidiary of the Bank of Canada with total resources of $100,000,000.

Assails C.C.F.

REGINA, March 2 (CP).—R. M. Pinder (L., Saskatoon City) asserted in the Saskatchewan Legislature today that Victory Bonds, life insurance savings and bank savings would all be in danger under a Socialistic system.

"When the Socialistic system has drained off the earnings from the pockets of the people then we can expect only regimentation and national Socialism in its true form," he said.

N. L. McLeod (L., Souris-Estevan) said that if the C.C.F. party got into power Victory Bonds "would not be worth the paper they were written on."

O. Demers (L., Shellbrook) appealed to the C.C.F. to provide the House with definite information as to its policy and programme. He said there was a possibility of an election in Saskatchewan this year, and the voters wanted to know what the C.C.F. stood for. The C.C.F. Opposition in the Legislature had done nothing to make its position clear, he contended.

"I have listened to C.C.F. speakers in the House since 1934, and I have found their statements this year more confusing than ever before," said Mr. Demers.

Canadians Face Danger of Losing Franchise, Mrs. Ellen Hart Asserts

Canadians faced the danger of losing their franchise, first through the present trend toward order in council government by the Liberal party, and secondly in the event of the C.C.F. party attaining power, declared Mrs. Ellen Hart, addressing the Progressive Conservative Association of Victoria Federal riding at the Conservative Hall Thursday night.

Mrs. T. J. Rolston, M.L.A., Point Grey, emphasized need for open minds and new ideas, and declared she could not see in the recent speech by Lord Halifax in Toronto "anything to cause controversy" when it was read properly. She asserted that in future years Canada would need its Empire ties.

Mrs. Hart took a similar view and declared Canada was "not subservient" to Britain.

Quebec had been kept isolated from Western Canada for political reasons, and "the West has been a milk cow for the East," Mrs. Hart asserted. "Forces in power" had kept Quebec in ignorance.

Prime Minister King had vacillated throughout the war and was "trying to win the war on politics," she charged. He was "trying to do away with Parliament." The Prime Minister "or the forces behind him, for he no longer belongs to himself nor the Liberal party, are determined to break away from the Commonwealth."

PREDICTS SUPPORT MIGHT SHIFT TO C.C.F.

She expressed the belief that if "the forces behind the Prime Minister" thought he was unlikely to win the next election, they would switch support to the C.C.F., and bureaucracy now was only a foretaste of what could be expected then.

She urged that rehabilitation should be applied first to the volunteers in the armed services. Mrs. Hart expected that when the Western Europe front opened Canada would have a great need for reinforcements and that then "Prime Minister King will have to make use of the wonderful plebiscite he has kept locked in his cedar chest." The remainder of Canada should ask then if French-Canadians were to be deferred, and when asking should not blame the French-Canadian people but "the forces trying to keep Canada from helping the Commonwealth."

No trouble of this nature would ever have arisen, she held, if Premier King had gone to the country on conscription. There was no doubt "Quebec is running Canada."

Canada's great need now was for statesmen, Mrs. Hart declared.

Mrs. Rolston described a tour across Canada last year and said there was great need for closer understanding between sections of the Dominion. John Bracken, she was glad to see, had told Quebec that it could expect from the Progressive Conservatives only the justice to which it was entitled.

She spoke of rehabilitation and high hopes held for effective measures, and of the possibilities of industrial research in this province.

Mrs. Rolston stated the British Columbia Coalition Government was "working out very satisfactorily" and that people of the province were "fairly well satisfied with it."

MUST BE PREPARED FOR ELECTION

Throughout Canada, Mrs. Rolston said, keen interest was being shown in the possibility of a Federal election and "we must be prepared."

Brigadier-General J. Sutherland Brown endorsed Mrs. Rolston's declaration that greater study of national affairs was necessary, asserting that for persons to say they were not interested in politics meant they were not interested in their country nor in the other people in Canada, but were interested only in self.

Sinclair Elliott, vice-president of the Federal riding association, presided. Sharing the platform were Brigadier-General Brown, president of the Oak Bay association, who introduced the speakers; Alderman D. D. McTavish, president of the Victoria association, and Frank H. Davey, president of the Saanich association.

Mrs. Robert Harvey extended a vote of thanks to the speakers.

The meeting was the first of a series.

Wants Equal Pay For Air Women

OTTAWA, March 2 (CP).—Gordon Graydon, Progressive-Conservative House leader, and Mrs. Dorise Nielsen (Unity, North Battleford) suggested tonight in the Commons that members of the R.C.A.F. Women's Division should receive pay equal to that given men of comparable rank.

Mrs. Nielsen said that unless women convinced men of the right of equal pay for their work, "your men will just forget about them."

Mr. Graydon, speaking of leave arrangements, said he had a letter from an airman overseas saying that the system of furloughs for air crew did not seem to be working to the satisfaction of R.C.A.F. personnel.

The way in which those in the service were welcomed home, he said, would be a measure of Canadian ability to meet the challenge of the times.

J. G. Diefenbaker (Progressive Conservative, Lake Centre) said the preference of almost all airmen for postwar careers was aviation, either civil or military. Parliament had been remiss in not paying sufficient attention to the development of a great international air transport system.

Drew Critical of Ottawa's Action on Health Insurance

TORONTO, March 2 (CP).—Premier Drew today told the Ontario Legislature "it is most unfortunate" that the revised Federal Health Insurance Plan was presented Wednesday to the House of Commons Social Security Committee in Ottawa without prior consultation with the provinces.

His Government "is not merely ready but anxious" to co-operate with the Dominion Government, said the Premier who rose to speak as the House opened, but "we shall insist that there be consultations on all matters relating to both the provinces and the Dominion."

In a busy afternoon, prelude to its first night sitting of the session tonight, the House sat in committee to report ten bills for third reading.

It was on such matters as the Health Insurance Plan that he had requested a Dominion - Provincial conference, Premier Drew said in his criticism of the presentation of the plan to the Commons committee. He added he had been officially informed by the Federal Government that it was not now possible to fix a date for such a conference.

Because the plan was presented to a committee it was not possible to comment on it directly, as it was "in a state of suspended animation" and might be further revised.

The Government of Ontario "is not a subsidiary Government," said the Premier. "There is one field of authority for us, one for the Dominion Government and some overlapping. If there is to be effective co-operation, it must be co-operation."

There were cheers from both sides of the House when he asserted that "this Government intends to insist on the constitutional rights of the Province of Ontario," although his administration "has no desire to place obstacles in the way" of the Federal Government, but "we shall insist that there be consultation on all matters relating to both the province and the Dominion."

In answer to a question by E. B. Jolliffe, Opposition leader, the Premier said health insurance was only one of a number of matters in which the province had taken the initiative in approaching the Dominion.

Need Secondary Forest Industry

Exhaustion of timber resources in the Cranbrook and Fernie districts has caused the shutdown of mills and left ghost towns where once there were prosperous communities, William Mercer, research chief of the Bureau of Economics and Statistics, said before Mr. Justice Gordon McG. Sloan, commissioner of the forest inquiry in the Victoria Courthouse.

Lumberton, which one had a monthly payroll of $50,000, was practically an abandoned town; the ghost town of Jaffray had once had 200 residents. Cranbrook, Mr. Mercer said, which was the centre of tremendous logging activity 40 years ago, was now dependent upon the Sullivan Mine at Kimberley. The Prime Minister "or the forces behind him, for he no longer belongs to himself nor the Liberal party, are determined to break away from the Commonwealth."

PREDICTS SUPPORT MIGHT SHIFT TO C.C.F.

She expressed the belief that if "the forces behind the Prime Minister" thought he was unlikely to win the next election, they would switch support to the C.C.F.; and bureaucracy now was only a foretaste of what could be expected then.

She urged that rehabilitation should be applied first to the volunteers in the armed services. Mrs. Hart expected that when the Western Europe front opened Canada would have a great need for reinforcements and that then "Prime Minister King will have to make use of the wonderful plebiscite he has kept locked in his cedar chest." The remainder of Canada should ask then if French-Canadians were to be deferred, and when asking should not blame the French-Canadian people but "the forces trying to keep Canada from helping the Commonwealth."

No trouble of this nature would ever have arisen, she held, if Premier King had gone to the country on conscription. There was no doubt "Quebec is running Canada."

Canada's great need now was for statesmen, Mrs. Hart declared.

Mrs. Rolston described a tour across Canada last year and said there was great need for closer understanding between sections of the Dominion. John Bracken, she was glad to see, had told Quebec that it could expect from the Progressive Conservatives only the justice to which it was entitled.

She spoke of rehabilitation and high hopes held for effective measures, and of the possibilities of industrial research in this province.

Mrs. Rolston stated the British Columbia Coalition Government was "working out very satisfactorily" and that people of the province were "fairly well satisfied with it."

MUST BE PREPARED FOR ELECTION

Throughout Canada, Mrs. Rolston said, keen interest was being shown in the possibility of a Federal election and "we must be prepared."

Brigadier-General J. Sutherland Brown endorsed Mrs. Rolston's declaration that greater study of national affairs was necessary, asserting that for persons to say they were not interested in politics meant they were not interested in their country nor in the other people in Canada, but were interested only in self.

Sinclair Elliott, vice-president of the Federal riding association, presided. Sharing the platform were Brigadier-General Brown, president of the Oak Bay association, who introduced the speakers; Alderman D. D. McTavish, president of the Victoria association, and Frank H. Davey, president of the Saanich association.

Mrs. Robert Harvey extended a vote of thanks to the speakers.

The meeting was the first of a series.

All settlements occupied by the Japanese have schools handled by Japanese teachers.

Wants Equal Pay For Air Women

OTTAWA, March 2 (CP).—Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House leader, and Mrs. Dorise Nielsen (Unity, North Battleford) suggested tonight in the Commons that members of the R.C.A.F. Women's Division should receive pay equal to that given men of comparable rank.

Mrs. Nielsen said that unless women convinced men of the right of equal pay for their work, "your men will just forget about them."

Mr. Graydon, speaking of leave arrangements, said he had a letter from an airman overseas saying that the system of furloughs for air crew did not seem to be working to the satisfaction of R.C.A.F. personnel.

The way in which those in the service were welcomed home, he said, would be a measure of Canadian ability to meet the challenge of the times.

J. G. Diefenbaker (Progressive Conservative, Lake Centre) said the preference of almost all airmen for postwar careers was aviation, either civil or military. Parliament had been remiss in not paying sufficient attention to the development of a great international air transport system.

Supplementary Estimates Cause of Stormy Accounts Committee Sitting

If there are loopholes in making up supplementary estimates which provide opportunity for wrongdoing, every effort should be made to close them. On this note of general agreement the public accounts committee of the Provincial Legislature Thursday morning closed a stormy session with the suggestion that H. E. Winch, leader of the C.C.F. opposition, and Grant McNeil, C.C.F., Vancouver-Burrard, should bring in a resolution embodying changes in procedure they would suggest.

The storm centred around Provincial Police supplementary estimates of 1940-41, which were dealt with at length in the Haldane inquiry and upon which Mr. Winch has been questioning a number of Government officials. Thursday morning Sub-Inspector D. D. Moses, Provincial Police paymaster, repeated to the committee the testimony he gave at the inquiry, that he submitted a supplementary estimate of $13,000 but was instructed to increase it to about $90,000, on the basis that in previous years the supplementary vote had run about $100,000.

Mr. Winch contended if experience proved supplementary votes of such amount were needed, they should be in the main estimates. This incident showed, he contended, that supplementary estimates were not based on needs. If additional money was necessary for emergency it could be obtained by special warrant. If the system revealed was to continue, it would leave loopholes for persons "who want to be crooks."

W. T. Straith, Liberal-Coalition, Victoria, expressed anxiety to close loopholes, but said in this case it had been proved no harm had been done. There was no evidence, contended R. C. MacDonald, Conservative-Coalition, Dewdney, to show the expenditure should not have been made.

Mr. MacNeil held that honest civil servants should not be exposed to suspicion, and that the man in actual charge of expenditures should be encouraged to economize. The procedure, he said, was wrong.

The particular item, Mr. Winch said, "shows the necessity for a closer check." He was amazed that Government members of the committee defended the system.

E. T. Kenney, Liberal-Coalition, Skeena, agreed "we want the closest scrutiny possible," but resented any insinuation that Government members of the committee were defending loopholes, describing such a suggestion as "grossly unfair." Mr. MacNeil urged "an intelligent approach" and that steps be taken to guard civil servants against instructions such as Sub-Inspector Moses received. Both Mr. Winch and Mr. MacNeil pointed out there was no reflection on Inspector Moses, who had only been carrying out instructions.

H. N. Wright, deputy minister of finance, stated he thought it would be impossible to obtain estimates in greater detail than they now were.

Mr. Wright presented a breakdown of the $995,000 police estimates which formed the basis of the questions.

DESCRIBES ECONOMIES IN GOVERNMENT PRINTING

At the opening of the committee's meeting, Charles F. Banfield, King's Printer, discussed printing costs. He told how extensive economies had been accomplished and how more might be made. He suggested there should be a "custodian of documents," similar to Ottawa, to whom inquiries for reports and documents could be made.

The Rehabilitation Council's report, Mr. Banfield stated, had a larger public sale than any report which any department had issued in his knowledge.

Suggestion was made that British Columbia should publish a year book containing essential information for industrialists, investors, teachers, other Governments, and so on.

Mr. Banfield was asked to bring in recommendations. The King's Printer received warm praise from Government and Opposition members for courtesy, promptness and efficiency.

Winch Makes Suggestions

Appointment of a minister in charge of postwar reconstruction and development, an immediate survey for development of industrial hydro-electric power in the province, discussion of constitutional amendments and jurisdictional authority with the Federal Government, and measures to establish new industries under public ownership were advocated in the Legislature yesterday by Harold E. Winch (C.C.F., Burnaby), when the leader of the Opposition participated in the budget debate.

"We are disappointed at the manner in which C.C.F. representations have been accepted by the other side of the House. Members have shown a fundamental ignorance of factors that govern economy and administration of the province. They do not realize our economy is definitely tied up to what is taking place in the rest of the world," Mr. Winch charged.

He claimed Coalition Government members had not the faintest idea about the basic fundamentals of Socialism, and that the majority of their thinking was prehistoric and fantastic. He said they made ridiculous assertions hoping to hold back the sweeping tide of the C.C.F. in its control of government in all provinces and at Ottawa.

"We believe in democracy, so we practice it. All members of the C.C.F. are Socialists and every Socialist is a democrat. Socialism will arrive only when citizens accept and appreciate full social responsibility. Natural forces compel change, growth and progress. You cannot stop the death of the old and the birth of the new," Mr. Winch declared.

He explained that revolution did not necessarily mean noise and street barricades, and the object of the C.C.F. was a democratic transfer to public ownership. They were determined to use instruments of democracy to build a democracy.

In reply to a question from Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., Attorney-General, Mr. Winch asserted the Regina manifesto still stood as the policy of the C.C.F.

"All modern economics are developing in the direction of central control and regulation. In the planning of our economy towards a dynamic and progressive society, resources of the country must be controlled by the people," Mr. Winch said.

He said the C.C.F. did not stand for dictatorship, Fascism, or the negation of democracy, but stood for freedom.

Mr. Winch stated that the development of capitalism brought Fascism to Europe, and maintained that the whole purpose of international cartels was to obtain monopolies so that only members could manufacture articles and thus increase profits. He quoted figures to support his contention that 175,000 companies produced 70 per cent of the manufactured goods in the United States before the war, but today 100 corporations held 70 per cent of war and central contracts.

Anscomb, Minister of Public Works, had said on Tuesday that money could not be found as easily in peacetime as during war. In the opinion of Mr. Winch, no greater indictment of capitalism had been uttered in the House. He charged the Government with neglecting preparations for postwar rehabilitation and construction, and said it would be possible to mobilize on a greater scale for peace than war.

In reply to a question from Hon. H. G. T. Perry, Minister of Education, Mr. Winch answered that he would be prepared to give up provincial rights to the Federal Government as states in Australia had done for a period of seven years.

He said he regretted he had been unable to find in the budget a comprehensive plan for development of agriculture, rural electrification, industrial hydro-electric power and industries to maintain employment after the war.

"British Columbia must be on the march, or we shall be caught napping. Members of the Government have reached an intellectual dead centre and are a dead weight on the province with their ossified knowledge of economics," Mr. Winch concluded.

Red Cross Has $35,885 of Quota

Citizens of Greater Victoria subscribed $35,885.94 of the $100,000 asked by the Red Cross Society here up to last night. Yesterday's collections were $11,015, more than in the two previous days.

Biggest increase in collections reported yesterday was in the residential division, where the total was $4,783.20—more than the amount collected in the previous three days. District 32 of this division, under Capt. F. G. Dexter, is leading with $2,322.

Special names yielded $3,690 yesterday, bringing that division almost halfway to its $46,000 quota. Services division, which includes civil servants, hospitals and servicemen, reported $935 yesterday.

Last year's total at the same period of the drive was $35,967.79.

Officials said last night: "The campaign machine is now really getting into gear and general indications are excellent." District leaders were urged to make sure that 100 per cent coverage was being made.

Four Bills Discussed

Debate on an amendment to the Libel and Slander Act, proposed by T. D. Pattullo (Liberal, Prince Rupert), was adjourned in the Legislative Assembly yesterday afternoon by Harold E. Winch (C.C.F., Burnaby) when it came up for second reading.

Mr. Winch said he wished to give further consideration to the measure. Mr. Pattullo replied he did not want the bill to die on the order paper, and said it might not come up again until next Thursday if debate was adjourned. Thomas Uphill (Labor, Fernie) supported the amendment, and cited an instance in which he said he had been refused the name of a man who anonymously made certain insulting remarks about him in an Interior newspaper.

Mr. Pattullo stated the position taken by newspapers was that some of the letters to the editor contained libelous matter, and that if a newspaper was forced to publish a letter, they would not be liable for libel. Hon. R. L. Maitland, K.C., Attorney-General, replied that libel was a criminal offence under jurisdiction of the Federal Government.

The amendment sponsored by Mr. Pattullo, if incorporated in the Libel and Slander Act, would force a newspaper or other periodical to publish without deletion, alteration or addition a reply of reasonable length to an allegation, report, criticism or condemnation.

An amendment to the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act, sponsored by A. J. Turner (C.C.F., Vancouver East), was defeated when it came up for second reading. It would have eliminated from the act a clause stating that a member of a trade union must have belonged to it for three months before he was considered a member within the meaning of the act.

MINISTER OF LABOR AGAINST AMENDMENT

Hon. G. S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, stated the I.C.A. Act should be given a fair trial before amendments were proposed. The Provincial Government was prepared to ask the Federal Government to extend the new labor code in British Columbia with administration in hands of the Province. Ottawa might be prepared to do so, and in that case the I.C.A. Act would be dormant for the duration of the war, he explained.

Herbert Gargrave (C.C.F., Mackenzie) contended there was no time like the present to bring the I.C.A. Act into conformity with the Federal code.

Mr. Pearson adjourned debate on an amendment to the Provincial Elections Act, proposed by W. W. Lefeaux (C.C.F., Vancouver Centre). It would give a vote to East Indians and Chinese who served in armed forces during the present conflict, and would also facilitate advance polls.

Mr. Lefeaux declared there were 2,000,000 East Indians fighting for the British Empire, and about 1,200 in the province.

Mrs. Tully J. Rolston (Conservative-Coalition, Point Grey) took objection to a remark made about voting by Mr. Lefeaux.

"Suggestions have been made in this House that members are not free to vote as they see fit. Such suggestions should be discontinued," was the ruling of Hon. Norman W. Whittaker, K.C., the Speaker.

Mr. Lefeaux recalled that Japanese who fought in the Great War were allowed to vote in the province, and said he saw no reason why the privilege should not be extended to East Indians and Chinese who had also served Canada.

Second reading was given to an amendment to the Municipal Superannuation Act, proposed by W. T. Straith, K.C. (Liberal-Coalition, Victoria).

It provides that employees of cities and municipalities may contribute to superannuation funds after a continuous period of twelve months' employment.

Mr. Pearson also adjourned debate on an amendment to the Female Minimum Wage Act, proposed by Mrs. Dorothy G. Steeves (C.C.F., North-Vancouver).

If passed it would make the act applicable to domestics, fruit pickers and farm laborers.

Budget debate was adjourned by R. L. Maitland, K.C., who will wind it up this afternoon when the House sits at 2:30 o'clock.

Prayers at the opening yesterday afternoon were said by the Speaker when a clergyman failed to appear.

Alberta Deals With Soldier-Legislators

EDMONTON, March 2 (CP).—A resolution urging that members of the Alberta Legislature who have joined the armed forces for overseas service should be accorded acclamation in event of a provincial general election before the next session of the assembly was ruled out of order in the House today.

The resolution was moved by E. J. Martin (Independent, Peace River) and seconded by Andrew Davison (Independent, Calgary).

Attorney-General Lucien Maynard contended the resolution dealt with the same subject matter contained in the act to amend the Election Act introduced by him Wednesday and "therefore cannot be considered." Mr. Speaker Dawson upheld Mr. Maynard's contention.

Mr. Maynard's amendment provides for automatic nomination as candidates after dissolution of the present Legislature of members of the armed forces on active service outside of Canada, at the next general election, without requiring the present procedure such as having four voters nominate a candidate, show consent of the candidate and name of official agent.

One member of the Legislature now is serving overseas. He is Capt. Thomas Tremblay (Liberal, Grouard).

The War Today—

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Racing against impending Spring thaws, Red Armies on the Russian Baltic flank are on the verge of a victory that will do more than rout the last Nazi invaders from Russian soil in the Northwest. They are within sight of wresting little Estonia from Hitler's grip as the first German-conquered coubtry in Continental Europe to be freed of Nazi domination.

With both the Narva and Pskov gateways to Estonia and the Nazi base at Vitebsk almost encircled by the Russians, only a miracle could prevent early collapse of the German front over a 400-mile span. The fall of any of them, particularly Pskov, must open the way for Russian incursions in both Estonia and Latvia that could convert Estonia into a trap for Nazi forces cut off there.

It is questionable whether a German retreat from Estonia and Northern and Northeastern Latvia is not already in progress.

The Narova River, crossed by the Russians, was a strong defensive front. It is fringed with marshes on both sides. Yet the Russians drove through on a 22-mile-wide front to outflank Narva and all but cut its westward communications.

The implication is that only Nazi rear guards, posted to delay the Russian advance across the Narva Isthmus, manned that front. If that is true, it must mean that Nazi evacuation of all Estonia has been ordered in anticipation of a Russian breakthrough at Pskov which could trap German forces north of the Pskov-Valk-Riga railroad and highway or the Pskov-Riga trunk line south of it.

Finland Totters

Finland, about which the world knows a good deal more now than it did four years ago, is reported on the brink of collapse in the present world conflict. All the present smoke of peace overtures could not exist without some fire. Certainly in the field Finland stands in need of peace, separated as she is from her German ally and unable to stand against the forces that can be brought against her on her own soil. Yet Finland in this pass is showing some disposition to bargain, to make terms, to ask for special concessions, speaking still with a strong Teutonic accent. The reason is not far to seek.

Ever since the Mannerheim line was built in Finland, German influence has been predominant in the Baltic states. Ringed in by an inland sea, perhaps they had no option. Yet by her action in joining the Nazis Finland has prolonged this war, borne arms at the siege of Leningrad, embarrassed the Arctic convoys from Great Britain to Russia, propped Sweden in her tight-rope neutrality, and stood ready—at one time—to share in "the new order in Europe." Can that be forgotten as if it had never taken place? Finland today is a belligerent on the other side, an Axis satellite.

If the United Nations recede from their stand of unconditional surrender in the case of Finland, they will be setting a precedent that will have its influence around the world. Whatever else comes next, there must first be an outright acknowledgment of Finland's defeat in the war. The terms proposed are not onerous. As reported, they are merely that Finland stop fighting, neutralize all German action within her borders, and get out of the war. And that is sound advice, although it will not suit her German overlords.

Many Happy Returns

The Vancouver Daily Province is fifty years old today. Our distinguished Mainland contemporary was started as a weekly in Victoria, at premises at the corner of Courtney and Gordon Streets, on March 3, 1894. It had begun its life as a daily in Vancouver when the Nineteenth Century turned into the present one, and has been privileged to record one of the genuine miracles of the West, the growth of small community into a progressive and growing metropolis which has become the third city in Canada.

A great deal of Vancouver's civic history has appeared as news items of the day in the columns of the journal that has served it so faithfully and so well. Beyond that, The Province has lived up to its name. Early it saw the importance of the great hinterland, the open valley of the mighty Fraser, the orchard lands beyond that, and the range country rising into the foothills of the Coast Range and the Rockies. Good citizenship, in a civic and a provincial sense, has been one of its watchwords.

Many things contribute to the life and growth of a newspaper. Human personality is one of them. The Province has developed many first rank newspapermen in the fifty years of its service. The pioneer cartoonist Fitzmaurice; the late Walter Cameron Nichol, publisher and owner; the late "Jimmy" Butterfield, columnist; and many another vivid personality each brought something of their genius to a tradition that has been singularly Vancouver's own. Now part of the Southam chain of newspapers across Canada, The Vancouver Daily Province can look back from its fiftieth milestone on a record that has contributed to the upbuilding of the Canadian West, and forward to days rich with challenge and with promise to those who carry the ideal of human service in the van. Many Happy Returns!

State Hospitalization

After considering the subject for well over two years, and publishing a number of printed "schemes," some of which were circulating privately around this country as much as a year ago over the seal of the King's Printer, the Mackenzie King regime has now laid what it calls a rough draft of health insurance proposals before a committee of the House of Commons. Hon. Ian Mackenzie has informed that committee that the proposals are only tentative, that there is no fixity to them at all, and, by implication, that the Government will not be responsible in the matter—otherwise it would have brought in a Bill in the House, and have taken its chances on that.

It seems idle at this juncture to waste time in discussing the variable, tentative and nowhere-to-be-pinned-down provisions of this nebulous plan, not introduced in Parliament, but insinuated with apology before a committee of the House. What is the committee supposed to do: recommend it to the House, and incidentally to the Government, amend it, and at whose direction; or throw it out? In short, where does the Government stand on the matter? We have not yet been told.

From the printed forms of suggested draft Bills that have been circulating in Canada the impression has been gleaned that health insurance in this form would be a device, supported by direct taxation, to pay hospital bills across Canada, with somewhat more regard to the hospitals than to either the insured or the taxpayers. In some of the proposals medical services were expressly excluded. In some the total costs were given as $250,000,000, and in others as $326,000,000, without very much explanation of how these figures were derived. Health insurance, if it is to be undertaken at all, demands a steadier approach than all that would imply.

If the Dominion Government merely wishes to make a social-minded demonstration to the people, Mr. Ian Mackenzie's soft words before the committee no doubt should fill the bill. If, on the other hand, the Government really proposes to implement a plan of health insurance in Canada, and to take a stand for good or ill upon that, then the sooner a basic Bill is introduced by the Administration before Parliament the better for all concerned. For this proposes to deal heavily with taxation in years in which taxation itself is at an all-time peak. Parliament is the proper place to consider taxation, and also to consider what would be the return benefits under any definite plan that can be proposed.

At present, the whole subject is being treated by the Administration as a great nebulosity, as something to be voiced in whispers before a lone Committee of the House. The subject is too important to remain long in that position. State hospitalization is one thing; health insurance is another. Which does the Government intend, or has it any serious intentions whatever?

Overseas Letters

Knowing the eagerness with which most people dispatch letters to their relatives overseas and the anxiety with which they look for replies, it is astonishing to learn that owing to carelessness on the part of Canadians at home a vast number of letters unavoidably are delayed in transit. According to figures given recently by the Postmaster-General, no fewer than 250,000 letters for overseas had to be set aside last year for attention by the redirectory section of the Postal Corps.

The Canadian Postoffice is handling the greatest volume of mail in its history. Its resources understandably are strained as never before to ensure no unnecessary time lapses in handling overseas mail. The dangers and exigencies of war add to the difficulty of speedy dispatch and delivery, but Canadians have it in their power to help eliminate some avoidable delays.

Incorrectly addressed letters, misleading abbreviations, failure to include regimental numbers and branch of the service mean that the letters have to be set aside until there is time to search voluminous nominal rolls in an effort to correct the address. The Postmaster-General suggests three simple things to watch when mailing letters to men and women in the overseas services: make sure the address is clearly and correctly written; write a return address on the envelope, and affix the correct postage. By this means people reasonably can feel sure that their letters will go as fast as they possibly can.

Seen in Passing

It is something new in Canadian politics when a Prime Minister can say: "Watch out there. If you are not good, we will hold an immediate election." But is the Prime Minister himself prepared for the consequences of that threat? Would the result be of more than academic interest either to himself or to the regime that is at present in office? If Mr. Mackenzie King had an infallible answer to that question he would not now be reduced to making threats in Parliament.

No matter what the fashions of the day, the chief aim of education is still to teach individuals to think. Where a start has been made with that in those years which encompass schooling, less remains to be done by the individual when he, or she, blossoms forth on the world with enthusiasm and hope. Schools should never become mere filling stations, when in fact they are nurseries where the human mind should be encouraged to grow and to produce of its own initiative.

"Alick"

Some day we'll hear from him again.
Our boy, away across the sea:
He's "missing now," the message said.
"In action 'gainst the enemy."

We watched him grow from day to day,
We saw him change, from year to year,
Till he attained to man's estate,
Fine, strong and proud, and very dear.

To those of us he left behind
He's "missing" but we know, not dead.
The first sharp shock of that grim word
Filled all our minds with thoughts of dread.

But as the anxious days go on,
No news is heard, of good or ill:
Hope springs eternal in our hearts,
And he'll come back, we know he will.

God grant to him a safe return,
And to his many comrades, too,
Who've joined the ranks of missing men,
Fighting for what is right and true.

THE END OF THE ATLANTIC CHARTER

Although some days have passed since Mr. Churchill made his report to the House of Commons, the speech can furnish food for comment for a long time to come. It was the most revelatory speech to have been made by any Allied statesman for months, with much more implied in it than is clearly expressed.

But at least one thing was made clear. Mr. Churchill buried the Atlantic Charter. Since the President, co-author of the eight-point document, has not taken issue with the speech, we may take it the abandonment of the charter is established policy.

The purpose in framing principles for a peace is to plan future security. In August, 1941, when the Atlantic Charter was drafted, its principles were considered in this light. Thus, territorial changes by force were considered as a menace to security; so was intervention in the political affairs of other nations; so was continued heavy armament after the war.

Furthermore, the presumption of the Atlantic Charter was that its basic principles applied to all—victor and vanquished alike. In points four, six and eight, this was made specific. The Allied Governments pledged to "all states, great or small, victor or vanquished" equal access to the trade and raw materials of the world (4); all nations were assured "the means of dwelling in safety within their own boundaries" (6); the unilateral disarmament of the Axis was to be a preface to general disarmament (8).

Until a few weeks ago our psychological warfare was based on the Atlantic Charter, and airmen were dropping leaflets with its text over German towns.

But Mr. Churchill's speech undoes all this. He made the flat statement that the Atlantic Charter does not apply in any sense to the enemy. The term "unconditional surrender" means that we end the war, he explained, with no promises of any kind. We remain free to do exactly as we please, bound by no principles whatever—beyond the assurance, hardly necessary to make, that we will not behave in a "barbaric" manner.

Dr. Goebbels has struggled for two years to explain to the German people that the Atlantic Charter was window-dressing. He can now cease his efforts.

Now, why do we want to free our hands and rid ourselves of all commitments? Is it because we have a plan for Germany and Europe which we prefer not to publicize? Or is it because we have no plan at all, and wish to be free to adjust ourselves to events as they may develop?

This question is of primary importance. I am aware that in discussing the future of Germany I run the risk of being accused of peculiar consideration for our enemy. But no one capable of coherent thought can deny that the solution arrived at in the German question will determine the future of the whole of Europe and the future relations between the great powers.

If we have no plan, but intend merely to adjust ourselves to whatever events may turn up, the question is, has the Soviet Union a plan?

The answer to that is certainly yes. The Soviet Union has, no doubt, several plans. It too will adjust itself to events. Soviet policy is predicated upon what steps the Anglo-American powers may take. The Soviet Union obviously cannot make a unilateral decision about Germany. On the other hand it has a unilateral policy to follow in case no other policies develop, or in case the policies that do develop are unsatisfactory to the Soviet Union.

Furthermore, the Soviet Union is using its policy as an instrument of psychological warfare—day in and day out. It is not throwing it into the waste basket in the middle of the war. That policy goes back to the free German manifesto of July, 1943; it has never changed; and is being beamed from Russia to the German armies and people continuously. That policy advocates the establishment of such a strong, democratic national German state as the German masses will be prepared to defend.

The Moscow propaganda is not incompatible with frontier changes. But it is incompatible with the disintegration of the German nation, and it defines unconditional surrender.

It becomes increasingly clear that the Soviets approach the question of security from an entirely different viewpoint that we. We base our hopes of the permanent weakening of the present aggressors. The Soviets base their hopes upon the transformation of the social structures of states with such shifts in the dominant classes as will seem likely to assure strong governments, naturally friendly to the Soviet Union. There is no indication, nor is there any rational ground for believing that they wish exclusively to enjoy this future friendship. The Soviet Union realizes, perhaps more strongly than we, that future peace rests upon agreement between the Anglo-American powers and Russia.

Nevertheless, if we enter Europe without a plan, while the Soviets have a clear one in reserve, we stand to become caught in situations for which we are completely unprepared.

(The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Editor's Note.—The salient fact at the moment is that we still have to enter Europe with the bayonet. In our opinion, Mr. Churchill's words were addressed to showing that no bargain of any nature would be made with Germany short of her unconditional surrender, after which it is quite probable that the Atlantic Charter will be found to have survived after all.

QUEBEC'S SHOWING

Sir,—I was interested to read in yesterday's Colonist the straightforward comment from the Quebec paper "Le Jour" on the terribly poor percentage of enlistments in the Province of Quebec. There are many thousands of English Canadians in Montreal and I'm certain that the biggest part of that 23.5 per cent are English-speaking.

Quebec, which is 80 per cent French Catholic, had 17.7 per cent. During the last war the pulpits were used to advise the French boys to take to the woods to avoid joining up. It is apparently the same story in this. Yet Quebec is having more say in running this country than any province. Why? Because they are good Liberals.

Verdun, with approximately 50 per cent English-speaking, had one of the finest enlistment and war records in the last war, and has in this the greatest air ace (Buzz Buerling) among its fighting men. I'm sure the figures quoted and the strong condemnatory remarks do not apply to the English-speaking suburbs of Montreal. Yet there are only 23.5 per cent. It's appalling.

Believe me, there is going to be a serious problem on our hands after this war, because Quebec is determined to boss this country, even as she is doing now. I'm glad the people of the West can read such reports as yesterday's and I truly hope they will remember.

FOR CLEANER SPORT

Sir,—What type of hockey was that picture in the local press of Tuesday last? I know of no sport that allows a man to hold a man flat on his back and pound at his face with a fist. Also if fighting has become a part of the hockey game why is it that excellent referees like Wilson are not provided with linesmen that could at least stop blows to the face while held on the ground?

The public took it all in good fun, and even the men that suffered (some sportsmen, eh! I know a lot about that suffering). Surely there is someone with enough courage to save men of this community from being maimed for life by hitting a face that's held against the ground. This Jap-German barbarism won't occur in this community again even if the public have to take the law into their own hands by walking onto the ice.

I think the public is entitled to know whether the civic police, the linesmen, or the president of the hockey league, is responsible to stop fists smashing at the brains of a man held on the ice.

One thing is certain, the bantam teams showed how good, clean, fast hockey could raise the spirit and joy of 1,200 people privileged to watch them.

While world progress seems at the crossroads don't let there be any mistake in our choosing.

If we want better, cleaner, faster sport, why let the best players get maimed for life in fights that are illegal on the street or in any boxing or wrestling ring or any other sport?

If no one acts on this injustice Hitlerism gains another point.

The time used is Pacific Standard for the 120th Meridian west. It is counted from 0 to 24 hours from midnight to midnight. The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the table, the tide rises or falls continuously during two successive tidal periods without turning.

To find the depth of water on the sill at the Esquimalt Drydock at any tide, add 30 feet to the height of high water as above given.

ANOTHER CHILD DELINQUENT

Observation Car

By G.B.

Tobacconist Martin ambled into a haberdasher's shop yesterday and asked for a tie. "We have all kinds from 50 cents to $2.50. What kind would you like," the clerk on duty inquired. "I am not sure, but if it is any help, I wear a size 16 collar," Martin answered . . . Last Tuesday the Keating Squire was observed digging a large hole in the northwestern portion of his extensive farm. "What are you doing?" a curious neighbor asked. "Mining," the squire replied, without interrupting his shovel strokes. "You will not find any minerals there," the neighbor resumed. "Never mind. I am mining my own business, at least," the squire snorted . . . A kindly lady recently visited an elderly couple on Craigflower Road and made them a delicious meat loaf while the head of the family left to get a pound of low-priced hamburger for the family Scottie. Later in the day the male member of the family went to the refrigerator and took out what appeared to be the meat loaf. Both he and his wife agreed it was tough and lacked flavor, and sought to improve it by liberal doses of catsup, but it still tasted odd. At bedtime they again opened the refrigerator for a late snack, and were surprised to find the meat loaf still there. They had eaten the dog's raw hamburger. "Well, I'll be doggoned," the dog's master snorted . . . "Informative Isabel" told her small brother that people who got in wrong with the Nazis were sent to a "saturation" camp . . . A Department of Agriculture official recently received a letter from a farm woman asking where she could purchase a setting of capon eggs . . . Apprentices are still sent out to get left-handed monkey wrenches and tins of red, white and blue striped paint. Some of the old jokes will go on forever . . . Evelyn, the sole female member of the Press Gallery, is no longer in our midst. She was called back to her newspaper at Vancouver to fill in the gap caused by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kelly leaving for jobs at Winnipeg. The last thing Evelyn did in the press room was to pin up a note to the remaining scribes, "Please water the primroses." Somebody presented her with a box of the pretty Spring flowers which she daily tended with loving care. Although Vancouver born, Evelyn had grown to love Victoria with its background of Olympic Mountains, finest climate in Canada, and friendly people.

London Pupils Thank Victorians

Money sent by the people of Victoria to England through the Lord Mayor's Fund provided parties and entertainment for London schoolchildren at Christmas. Recently Mayor Andrew McGavin, chairman, and Frank Paulding, secretary of Victoria branch of the fund, received letters from children of John Evelyn School, Deptford, London, expressing their thanks.

Ivy Parsons, one of the school's prefects, wrote in part: "The money was distributed equally among the schools. It was suggested that each school should have a tea party with part of the money, and spend the rest as it wished. We had an entertainer who was a conjurer and ventriloquist . . . We enjoyed ourselves very much and we are very grateful to you . . . We had sandwiches and cakes and two cups of tea each.

". . . From one of our classroom windows we can see St. Paul's Cathedral and Tower Bridge.

"My Class, Class I girls, knits comforts for the forces . . . In every garment we put a letter, and some of the girls have received very nice letters in reply.

"We have a remembrance book with names in it of all fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, uncles and aunts of the children, who are serving. Every alternate Wednesday a certain number of the names are read out and we pray for them.

". . . We have a communal feeding centre in the school at which anyone can get a dinner . . . A child who belongs to the school can buy a dinner for 5d; if there is a second child in the family he pays 4d, and a third pays 3d."

George Pembroke, a pupil, wrote: "I had my usual two cups of tea (at the party); I would have liked another but there was no more left . . . Deptford has had some very serious raids . . . Our school was badly burnt in the blitz."

Julia Knapp wrote: "On Tuesday before Christmas we had a concert by the children themselves . . . On Wednesday we had the party that you provided and which was the best treat of all."

John Collins, ten, told of the man after whom the school was named: "In 1666 there was a man called John Evelyn who was a diarist. At that time the Czar of Russia was here and John Evelyn rented his house to the czar.

"In the war our school was hit by incendiary bombs. The roof was made of glass but now it is boards. Our class has a cardboard roof."

James Ide, another ten-year-old, wrote: "It was difficult to get the things (for the tea party). Miss Dell (head-mistress) got a special permit from the food office to get the sugar, butter, jam, tea and other things."

Contributions to the Lord Mayor's Fund are still taken at the City Hall.

According to Culbertson - - - -

The question of whether to make a penalty double or to try for game is much harder to decide at duplicate than at rubber bridge. For example:

East dealer.
East-West vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

	NORTH
	♠ K J 6 3
	♥ J 10 8 5
	♦ 5 5
	♣ 10 9 7
WEST		EAST
♠ 8 5		♠ Q 7 4 2
♥ Q 9 2		♥ A K 6 4 3
♦ K 10 4 2		♦ J 7
♣ K Q 6 3		♣ A 2
	SOUTH
	♠ A 10 9
	♥ 7
	♦ A Q 9 8 3
	♣ J 8 5 4

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	2 ♦	?

West has a difficult decision to make when South overcalls with two diamonds. At rubber bridge, since defeat of two diamonds seems certain, whereas game for East-West is highly problematic, the expert West would simply double and let it go at that. If it turns out that he could have made a game, he probably will not be much the loser, because he will have picked up 500 points, or at least 300, on the double, and still have almost a 3 to 1 chance for the rubber.

At duplicate, however, no such philosophy applies. If West settles for anything short of a 700 point penalty he will get a bad match-point score if game was possible for his side. Yet, even at duplicate, the double is the best action. Certainly West cannot afford to pass with so much strength. If he bids, however, he can say nothing more constructive than two hearts. He scarcely can venture two no trump with a worthless doubleton in spades; a three club bid would be atrocious, and his heart support is not great enough for a jump raise.

It is dangerously likely that the two heart bid will not prove sufficiently encouraging to East and that he may have to pass—as indeed he would in this specific case. Thus, if West does bid two hearts he is apt to find that he has traded the opportunity for a double for nothing more than a part score.

London—Premier Lloyd George, speaking at a Welsh festival dinner in London, warned the little nations of the danger of emulating the faults of the great empires by a tendency to annex territories not their own. "This is a most fatal error for any people, great or small," he said.

'Happy Land' Will Play Here Today

"Happy Land," MacKinlay Kantor's best-selling story of a courageous American family who gallantly meets the cruelest test that can come to any man and woman, has been brought to the screen by 20th Century-Fox, and will open today at the Dominion Theatre.

Heading the cast of the absorbing picture are Don Ameche, Frances Dee, Harry Carey and Ann Rutherford, with Cara Williams, Richard Crane, Henry Morgan, Minor Watson and Dickie Moore included in featured parts.

Irving Pichel directed the film, which was produced by Kenneth Macgowan from the screen play by Kathryn Scola and Julien Josephson.

PLAZA THEATRE The screen is turning out some fine welders. Edward G. Robinson is another actor who has become proficient with the torch in preparing for a picture role. Before he started working in Columbia's sea drama, "Destroyer," which is now showing at the Plaza Theatre, he spent a week taking a course in riveting and acetylene welding.

RIO THEATRE Ava Gardner, lovely starlet who married Mickey Rooney, was one of the famous Powers models in New York when a photographer sent her picture to a leading film producer, and this led to her signing a long-term contract shortly afterward. Miss Gardner appears at the Rio Theatre in the leading feminine role of "Ghosts on the Loose," the lively Monogram comedy-drama co-starring Bela Lugosi and the East Side Kids.

YORK THEATRE Filmed in Technicolor and replete with some of the most delightful music ever to reach the screen, sung by Jeanette MacDonald, "Smilin' Through" presents the star in the dual part of the old-fashioned heroine, Moonyean, and her modern niece, Kathleen. Brian Aherne and Gene Raymond have the other leading roles in the picture now at the York Theatre.

CAPITOL THEATRE It's lots of fun and frolicking music! Yes, sir, it's "Girl Crazy!" Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's zestful musical comedy now at the Capitol Theatre. Yes, there's Mickey Rooney and Judy Garland co-starred in this tunefilm which boasts Gershwin's memorable music. Then there's Tommy Dorsey, "Rags" Ragland, Guy Kibbee, Nancy Walker and June Allyson.

ATLAS THEATRE Stars, songs, surprises, mark Warner Bros. musical production, "Thank Your Lucky Stars," which is now playing at the Atlas Theatre. Among the leading stars who are being presented in the film are Eddie Cantor, Bette Davis, Errol Flynn, Joan Leslie, Dennis Morgan, Alexis Smith and Dinah Shore.

OAK BAY THEATRE Sonja Henie, Tyrone Power, Rudy Vallee, Edna May Oliver and new-star Mary Healy in a story illustrated with six songs by the dean of American songwriters make Irving Berlin's "Second Fiddle" a screen event to be talked about with enthusiasm. The 20th Century-Fox production is now at the Oak Bay Theatre.

CADET THEATRE The audience last night at the Cadet Theatre saluted appreciatively Paramount's musical romance, "Salute for Three," a snappy, happy movie that fulfills, with no trouble at all, its one objective—to entertain! Starring Betty Rhodes and Macdonald Carey, the story is set in and around a servicemen's canteen where fun is the order of every day.

Troop Leader Bert Leggett and Patrol Leader Fred Hayton attended the patrol leaders' training course held in Victoria on February 26 and 27, and learned a good deal of useful information. The troop held a joint meeting and rally with the troops from Colwood, Luxton and Metchosin in Colwood Hall and helped to make the event a success.

It was announced that a hike will be held on Saturday, March 25, when the troop will join forces with the Colwood troop and visit the Glen Lake area to complete part of their second and first-class tests. A court of honor was held after the meeting.

Oppose Elimination Of Election Deposit

WINNIPEG, March 2 (CP)—Hon. J. O. McLenaghen, Attorney-General, indicated in the Manitoba Legislature today that Coalition Government members would oppose a C.C.F. amendment to the Election Act which would abolish the $200 deposit required of all candidates in provincial elections.

Manitoba and Quebec are the only provinces now requiring an election deposit of $200, said Opposition Leader S. J. Farmer (C.C.F., Winnipeg).

Suit Against C.B.C. In Superior Court

MONTREAL, March 2 (CP).—Mr. Justice E. F. Surveyer today ruled that the Superior Court here and not the Exchequer Court had jurisdiction in a case involving the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation.

Mr. Justice Surveyer gave his ruling after the C.B.C. had claimed it was an agency of the Crown and that all actions against the Crown should be taken in the Exchequer Court.

The C.B.C. was sued in $8,375 damage by Mrs. Edouard Baudry, widow of a war correspondent killed while flying to Casablanca where he was going to attend the Churchill-Roosevelt conference for the C.B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Pendray Entertain Spokes Club

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Pendray entertained members of the Rotary Spokes Club last night at their beautiful home, "Havenwood," The Lagoon, at the final meeting of the season. For over five years Mr. and Mrs. Pendray have extended their hospitality to the Spokes Club for the last meeting, and an unusually large number attended.

The Spokes Club, affiliated with Rotary, is the medium for speakers, and last night the subject under discussion was "Should India Have Dominion Status Now?" The two speakers were Dr. W. W. McPherson (affirmative), pastor of Oak Bay United Church, past president of Kelowna Rotary Club, and guest of Victoria Rotary, and Capt. D. J. Proudfoot (negative), president of Spokes Club. Chairman for the evening was John Craig, and the speakers were introduced by George Mathison. Adjudicators, who candidly admitted their task was a heavy one, and fraught with conflicting decisions, were Rev. Dr. W. J. Sipprell, Sam Armstrong and Walter Fletcher.

Following the discussion, Miss Winnie Applegate charmed her listeners with her sweetly rendered "Open My Heart" (Blast), and "On Wings of Song" (Mendelssohn), and in response to applause sang "Comin' Through the Rye." Her accompaniments were played by John Beckwith, who received applause at the completion of his pianoforte solo, Brahms' Valse in A Flat. Miss Applegate was presented by Edmund Woodward, on behalf of the club, with a basket of Spring flowers.

John Tabor explained the activities of the Spokes Club during the past season, and enumerated the various meetings. Capt. Proudfoot complimented the committee members on their successful work, and James Nimmo in a cordial speech expressed to the hosts the members' appreciation of their hospitality.

At the close of the discussion, which evidenced study and scholarly compilation of data on India by both speakers, supper was served.

Weddings

DOVER-MASTERS—REDGRAVE

Of special interest to music lovers of Victoria was the wedding which took place on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Church of Our Lord, when Rev. T. H. Laundy united in marriage the well-known soprano, Victoria Kathleen (Vicki), younger daughter of Mrs. E. Redgrave, Harbinger Avenue, and the late Inspector Stroud Lincoln Redgrave, and Cpl. Francis H. Dover-Masters, R.A.F., second son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Dover-Masters, of Tudor Cottage, Bassett, Southampton, England. The bride, who was given in marriage by her cousin, Mr. Sidney G. Redgrave, wore a street-length dress of turquoise blue sheer fashioned on princess lines. The sleeves were wrist-length with pointed cuffs of lace. Her small hat was of rosy pink velvet flowers worn with a veil of pink over the face, and pink roses and freesias composed her corsage bouquet. Miss Eileen Dumbleton was her only attendant and wore a navy blue dressmaker suit with matching accessories. Her corsage bouquet was of pink carnations. L.A.C. Eric Edwards was the groomsman. A small reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Redgrave was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Sidney Redgrave. The bride's table was centred with carnations and heather, and Mrs. M. Holman and Mrs. M. Dyson assisted in serving. The young couple left on the midnight boat for a honeymoon in Vancouver. The bride chose for traveling a forest green tailored corduroy suit, green hat and chocolate brown accessories. Her topcoat was of matching green with a grey wolf collar, and she wore a single gardenia on her lapel. Upon their return, Cpl. and Mrs. Dover-Masters will reside in Victoria.

How It Started----

By JEAN NEWTON

MARSHALL ISLANDS ek

They consist of a series of thirty-three atolls, divided into two rows of fifteen and eighteen, running parallel with each other in the vastness that is the Central Pacific, rising but little above the high-water mark.

Their vegetation is poor; there are, however, coconut palms, bred-fruit trees, banana and yams; also taro and pandanus, which are Polynesian and Malay names of plants parts of which the natives eat.

There are hardly any animals on the Marshalls; poultry is scarce; crustacea and fish abound.

Before Pearl Harbor the natives used to make mats from the bark of a tree; there were exported, together with copra, tortoise shell, mother-of-pearl and sharks' fins.

The Marshalls first came into the geo-historical picture in 1529; nothing was done about them for about two and a half centuries; subsequently they were explored among others by Captains Gilbert and Marshall, after the latter of whom they became known.

Germany annexed them in 1885 and held them until after the last World War; then the Allies made the mistake of putting them under Japanese mandate.

Tiny specks in the Pacific, the Marshalls are becoming more and more visible as important landmarks in our naval strategy; they are slated for a fateful part in our grim progress toward Tokio.

Local Wholesale Produce Market

Supplies of oranges now are very light, according to the latest word from wholesale row. This condition is said to be due to bad weather in California, which is tying up transportation and making it difficult for pickers. Only 25 per cent of capacity is being shipped.

A car of grapefruit from Texas arrived yesterday and it is stated that when the next carload arrives the fruit will be sold for higher prices. There are no apples in wholesale row, first shipment for some time will be in on Monday.

Supplies of walnuts are plentiful; a car of California cabbage arrived yesterday and California carrots are due in today; celery prices are advancing; a few Okanagan onions arrived yesterday; tomatoes are scarce; some seed potatoes are available now and a small lot of sweet potatoes has arrived.

Decreases of £10,979,000 in private deposits and £18,200,000 in Government securities were partly offset by gains of £1,489,000 in public deposits and £17,686,000 in other securities.

The proportion of the bank's reserve to liabilities this week was 5.8 per cent compared with 12.4 per cent in the same week a year ago.

Glancing Over Sport—

By JOE DELAHUNTY

THE DAY'S ROUND-UP

The field is so large for the Empress golf tournament next week that about 45 male shotmakers will be forced to shoot their qualifying rounds at the Uplands course, the assisting club this year. More than 200 men have entered and officials have already found it impossible to handle that many at the Oak Bay layout, and see that they all finish before darkness sets in. It's the only way the big starting list can be handled fairly, so some of the men will have to join the ladies at the Uplands for the card and pencil test. There's nothing the matter with that, you can enjoy your golf at the Uplands just as well as Oak Bay or vice versa, and then, of course, the lassies will be at the former course, which should make it all the more interesting . . . We hope the weatherman behaves himself for the sake of the biggest field in the history of the tournament, especially with so many outsiders competing. This scribbler and many more will never forget the year we finished up in the basement of the Empress Hotel on a rapidly put together miniature course when snow blanketed the Oak Bay links the last two days . . . . Boston Bruins continue to lose their grip on a play-off in the N.H.L. They suffered another one of their frequent setbacks last night to the Hawks at Chicago. The Rosamen still have a chance to get in there, but they will have to set forth on a win streak to perform the trick . . . Understand that the R.A.F. would like to have another match next Wednesday afternoon; it would be their last before leaving the city for parts unknown. A game with Army would be a good attraction. What do you say, Charlie Lewis? We all would like to see the airmen in action once more before leaving our shores.

ODDS AND ENDS

A fitting tribute was paid to the late Alex Robertson, one-time football commissioner in this district, at Wednesday's soccer match prior to the kick-off, when the players and fans stood in two minutes' silence as a token of respect to the doughty Scot who did so much for the game while holding the important position . . . Windsor Lad, the English race horse so famous that daily bulletins were issued on his condition after he underwent a major operation in 1939, was destroyed recently. A famed sire and winner of two classics in 1934, the animal had been ill for several months. Windsor Lad went to his races in a special train accompanied by a guard of detectives. He won the 1934 Derby for the Maharajah of Rajpipla, and a St. Leger victory a few weeks later brought him the title of the "Wonder Horse" from the racing world . . . He cost the Maharajah only $6,175 aas a yearling, and was purchased by Martin Benson for $225,000 after his Derby triumph. Following what was probably the most intricate operation ever performed on a race horse, involving a brain tumor, Benson ordered the animal destroyed. The company which had insured the horse for $202,000 was not agreeable, and after arbitration the company took over The Lad. The operation proved a success, and Windsor Lad resumed stud duties just four years ago . . . One of the finest ice carnivals ever to be staged in this city will take place at the Willows Arena on the evening of March 13, just four days before all Irishmen go haywire for a day. Exact details and the names of the famous performers will be known within a few days. Proceeds from the show will go to aid the Minor Hockey Association, which has gone a long way in fostering the game for the youngsters since the early Fall. It will be a grand show, for some of the best noted skaters in Canada and the United States will be strutting their stuff for the public.

FROM HERE AND THERE

Do you know that the Vancouver Army football team came to the city for the game with the R.A.F. this week in style? They hopped aboard one of those big American planes and arrived at Pat Bay in 25 minutes. A big truck transported them to the Athletic Park and they kicked off against the Flyers shortly after 2:30. Back to the airport they went, jumped the plane again, and were in Vancouver by 6 o'clock, in time to sit down to supper. Accompanying the team was a former Victoria football and softball star in "Shorty" Collins, who has been in the Army for some time . . . Was talking to George, the iceman, yesterday afternoon, in Harry Rowe's fish emporium, and he said: "Joe, there should be no argument about the Stanley Cup winners this season. Those Canadiens appear too powerful for the rest of the clubs and, except something happens, they will capture the honors without a great deal of trouble, for they have proven they are the class of the league by a wide margin. Take a look at the league standings today and that bears out my argument about where the cup will go when the play-offs are finished" . . . That may be true, George, but remember back ten years ago when the Chicago Black Hawks just squeezed under the wire with only 14 victories during the whole N.H.L. schedule, and they went on and won the Stanley Cup by bruising their way through all opposition. Bill Stewart's club from the Windy City that year nearly chopped the Maple Leafs to ribbons in the final to complete one of the most surprising upsets in history . . . Also remember, George, just two years ago the Leafs won the first three from Detroit, but the Red Wings came rushing back to take four straight . . . Anything can happen when the chips are down in any sport. The Flying Frenchmen should win, but remember the Leafs, Wings and either the Hawks or Bruins will be in there fighting from the whistle to grab that historic "mug," for it means another $1,600 in the players' jeans when the curtain falls on the campaign.

DETROIT, March 2 (AP) — The lowly New York Rangers twice came from behind tonight in a desperate bid to gain their first National Hockey League victory in six weeks, but the Detroit Red Wings finally won, 6-5, before 6,757 spectators. Adam Brown, of Detroit, shot three goals.

The Rangers, who haven't won in 14 starts, spotted Detroit a 3-1 first period lead, but then tied it up before the intermission. The second period was scoreless. In the third period, Brown put Detroit back in front, but Bryan Hextall and Johnny Mahaffy scored 35 seconds apart to put the Rangers ahead.

Bill Quackenbush tied it up again and then Brown whistled home a 30-footer in the last six minutes to clinch it for Detroit. The victory gave the second-place Wings a four-point edge over idle Toronto.

Carl Liscombe shot Detroit's first two goals and thus became his club's first 30-goal scorer in history. Mahaffy bagged two goals for New York, with Ab Demarco, Fernand Gauthier and Hextall getting the others.

BLACK HAWKS DEFEAT BOSTON

CHICAGO, March 2 (AP)—Chicago Black Hawks jumped back into a third-place tie with the Toronto Maple Leafs in the National Hockey League by whipping the fifth-place Boston Bruins, 4-2, tonight before 11,913 Chicago Stadium spectators.

It was the fifth victory in nine games with the Bruins this season and gave the Hawks an eight-point lead over Boston, their rivals for a qualifying spot in the Stanley Cup play-offs. Idle tonight, Toronto stepped ahead of the Chicagoans Tuesday by beating the Bruins after the Hawks had pulled up even by last Sunday's victory over the New York Rangers.

The Hawks went to work early, scoring at 1:30 of the first period on a goal by Clint Smith with Art Wiebe assisting.

Boston tied the count in the second when Pat Egan pushed one through, but the Hawks went ahead again on Billy Mosienko's marker. Norm Calladine concluded the Bruins' scoring at 12:20, and Chicago regained the lead just before the period ended, Doug Bentley counting on a pass from Smith. Smith also put across the Hawks' fourth marker late in the third round, with assistance from Bentley and Mosienko.

Army and Cadets Seek Rugby Trophy

By OBSERVER

The Rugby game on Saturday is likely to be packed with thrills when the Army meets the Cadets from Naval College. The latter gave the Army a good fight in their last meeting just before the new year, when they lost a player during part of the first period and all the second half. This was when the Army were at full strength and at the height of their game. At that time the writer remarked that it would be interesting to see what would happen had the Cadets remained at full strength numerically. Saturday's game between these service rivals should give the answer.

There is no doubt that the Cadets will be in good shape and do their best to beat the Army, though it must be noted the Army still has a team with lots of power, and the Cadets will have to be at their best to win. It is understood Gornall will be absent and his loss will be keenly felt by the Army because he has been playing at his best all through the season. Peden will be back in his position at fullback and is always a tower of strength to his team.

An upset here would not surprise the writer, but the Army will make any team step lively to defeat them. This the Cadets will attempt to do with all their energy goes without saying. Therefore, if all followers want to see a lively and exciting game, go to Macdonald Park tomorrow afternoon and see the final for the Macdonald Cup at 2:30.

Orlando Enlists In Canadian Army

DETROIT, March 2 (AP)—Kenneth Wilkins, assistant United States attorney, said today the enlistment in the Canadian army of Jimmy Orlando, the Montreal-born former Detroit Red Wings' hockey player, who appealed a four-year sentence for draft evasion, would make no immediate difference in the status of his case.

As long as Orlando remained in Canada, however, he cannot be arrested because of his conviction in the United States, Wilkins added. His $2,000 bond would be declared forfeit only should the Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati sustain his conviction and should he then fail to appear to serve his term, the Government attorney said.

Orlando was permitted to go to Montreal to attend his mother's funeral. He remained there with his father and bought a share in a business. He applied for enlistment in the Canadian army three weeks ago and was inducted today.

OTTAWA, March 2 (CP). — Jimmy Orlando, former Detroit Red Wings hockey player, who was enlisted into the Canadian army in Montreal today, will have to apply to his commanding officer for permission if he wishes to return to the United States when his appeal against a four-year sentence for draft evasion is heard in the Cincinnati Court of Appeals, army headquarters said tonight.

A headquarters spokesman declined to make any other comment on Orlando's enlistment.

Angott Bout Delayed

LOS ANGELES, March 2 (AP). — The State Athletic Commission today announced postponement of the N.B.A. lightweight championship fight between Juan Zurita and Sammy Angott, scheduled for next Monday night in the Hollywood Baseball Park, until the following Wednesday night.

The commission said the playing field will be covered with canvas in an effort to dry out the ground drenched by recent heavy rains.

Beau Jack Is Favored By the Fans

Choice to Triumph Over Montgomery

NEW YORK, March 2 (AP).—Along Jacobs' Beach today the curbstone experts installed Sidney (Beau Jack) Walker a 1-to-2 favorite over Bob Montgomery for tomorrow night's world lightweight championship (New York version) fight in Madison Square Garden.

Beau, ex-bootblack from Augusta, Ga., probably would be happier if he were less favored, for the underdog has copped each of the previous meetings between this pair of punchers.

Last May, Jack was a 5-to-12 choice, but Montgomery soundly drubbed him and took his title. In November, with Montgomery favored by 1 to 12, the Beau won going away to regain his lost laurels.

The dusky duo today wound up workouts for the fray, Beau Jack taking only light exercises, while Montgomery worked hard. Beau was a pound under the 135-pound lightweight limit after the session, and said he expected to weigh in tomorrow at 133. Montgomery, despite his speedy and strenuous workout, weighed 136½, but said he would be around 134½ tomorrow "after drying out and skipped breakfast."

A gate of better than $90,000 was in the bag, Promoter Mike Jacobs said, boosting the total for the three Montgomery-Jack engagements far over the quarter-million mark.

Scoring Champs In Ontario Loop

TORONTO, March 2 (CP)—Doug Runions, of Hamilton Majors, and Kenny Smith, of Oshawa Generals, are individual scoring champions for the 1943-44 Ontario Hockey Association season, official records showed today. Runions won the Senion "A" crown by scoring 73 points on 39 goals and 34 assists, edging linemate Johnny Conick by three points. Conick had 36 goals, 34 assists for a 70-point total.

Smith led the power-packed Generals to a new club scoring mark in the O.H.A. Junior "A" series by chalking up a terrific 53-goal total, coupled with 26 assists, to give him 79 points. Trailing him by four points, with 75, was teammate Bobby Love, the league-leading playmaker, who scored 26 goals and 49 assists.

City Championship Series on Sunday

First rounds of the city championship play in the midget and juvenile divisions in the Victoria Minor Hockey Association will be run off next Sunday evening at the Willows rink with a double-header scheduled. Maroons and the Senators will clash in the midget opener at 8 o'clock and three-quarters of an hour later it will be the Royals and Maroons in the juvenile division.

With plans completed for the Coast finals against New Westminster here on March 10 and 11, practices have been called for the bantams this evening from 5 to 6 and on Monday during the same hour, while the midgets will hold training sessions on Tuesday and Thursday from 6 to 7. In addition to the bantam players who eliminated Nanaimo, the following are asked to turn out: Sufferan, Yesowick, McKay, Ward, Vater and Burnett.

Marriage Threat For $25,000 Race

Veteran Gelding Going in Feature at Hialeah Saturday—Arcaro Rides Well

MIAMI, Fla., March 2 (AP).—At an age when most race horses are allowed to cavort in green pastures or are running in cheap claiming events, an eight-year-old gelding is threatening to prance off with the two richest purses of the Winter.

Coward and Dupuy's Marriage won the New Orleans Handicap on February 19, and immediately was shipped here to try to top off the performance Saturday with a victory in Hialeah Park's Widener Handicap—only other race of the season with a $25,000 added value.

Around the Coward barn they call the reddish gelding a "running fool," and it's apparent his handlers think he has a good chance of kicking dust on the favored Sun Again, Bolingbroke, Four Freedoms, Alquest, Eurasian and the other Widener horses—some of which were born after Marriage already was winning races.

Marriage won $59,600 in 1942 and $86,875 in 1943 and already has added $22,680 to the stable's bank account this year with two triumphs in five starts.

Marriage has not been started since he was brought to Florida, but has been training well and is in condition for Saturday's mile and one-quarter race.

MIAMI, Fla., March 2 (AP).—Eddie Arcaro is making a habit of winning both ends of the daily double at Hialeah Park.

The veteran jockey, who piloted Mrs. Payne Whitney's Stir Up to victory in last Saturday's Flamingo Stakes, was up on both winners on Monday, Wednesday and again today. Monday's combination paid $43.60, Wednesday's $37.10 and today's $42.30. He won the first today with W. P. Maimagh's favored Liberty Flight and the second with Thankful, an outsider from the Swanee River Stable.

Olmo Becomes Dodger Holdout

SAN JUAN, P.R., March 2 (AP).—Louis Rodrigues Olmo, who batted .303 for the Brooklyn Dodgers in 37 games last season, became one of baseball's announced holdouts for 1944 today.

Olmo, fleet centrefielder, said he had cabled Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, that the club's best offer so far was not enough. It was understood Olmo had been offered $6,000 for the coming campaign and was asking $8,000.

Wheelers Tie Series

RED DEER, Alta., March 2 (CP).—Displaying midseason form, Red Deer Army Wheelers tonight defeated Calgary Tecumseh-Mustangs, 5-1, to tie up the Central Alberta Garrison Hockey League best-of-three semi-final series at one game each. Mustangs won the first game at Calgary, 3-1, last Saturday.

Facing elimination, the soldiers maintained a terrific pace throughout the 60 minutes and were full value for the decision. They scored two goals in the first period, two more in the second against one for navy and their fifth early in the third.

A crowd of about 2,000 saw the contest, marked by presentation of the Gordon Efficiency Medal to Pte. Sugar Jim Henry, Wheeler goal-keeper. The presentation was made between the first and second periods by Col. J. J. Burton-Willson, officer commanding, of the Red Deer training centre.

Pte. Bud Emery paced the Wheeler attack with three goals, with Ptes. Eddie Slowinski and Warren Stewart getting the others. O.S. Dave (Sweeney) Schriner netted for Calgary.

Next game of the series will be played at Calgary Saturday.

Bobo Newsom Sees Manager

PHILADELPHIA, March 2 (AP).—Bobo Newsom and his wife dropped in on Connie Mack today but left without any assurance where the rent money is coming from. In other words, Bobo, traded to the Athletics by the Washington Senators in exchange for Roger Wolff, didn't sign a contract.

"All he did was talk baseball," sighed the 41-year-old manager. "I couldn't get a word in edgewise."

Bobo, a trim 206 and the picture of health, explained he didn't want to make up his mind "until I see if I can get in shape."

Both of them assured newspapermen that salary didn't even figure in their discussions.

"If I play at all it will be for Mr. Mack," said the much-traded right-hander, who almost pitched Detroit to a world championship in 1940. "I'm sure I'll—I mean, I'm sure I'd like it here. If everybody who's booed me turned out to cheer me, we'd fill the stands every day."

Thirty-five years old and 4-F in the draft ("busted my leg when a mule ran over me down in South Carolina"), Newsom said there was some chance he might go into business. He didn't say what business.

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, March 2 (CP).—Led by hard-bashing riflemen who dropped their opponents for the count, the Regina Rifles Regiment won the unit team boxing championship of the Canadian Army in Britain by the narrow margin of 18 points (o 15. Their opponents were a reconnaissance regiment outfit and each team represented an army division.

The knockouts were scored by Tom Settee, full-blooded Indian from Prince Albert, Sask., and C. J. Weightman, of Arcola, Sask. Settee flattened his welterweight rival, Tpr. W. G. Andres, of Kerrobert, Sask., in the third round, while Weightman sent Sgt. C. W. Wilson, of Hamilton, Ont., reeling to the canvas early in the second.

Only other kayo of the 11-bout card came in a middleweight affair when Tpr. F. H. Egan, of Windsor, Ont., disposed of Cpl. D. E. Petit, of Duck Lake, Sask., member of the Reginas, in the second stanza.

The heavy divisions went to the reconnaissance riflemen. Sgt. Jack Ennis, a husky from Detroit who joined the Canadian Army in Windsor, Ont., three years ago, defeated Rfn. H. D. Kilgour, of Prince Albert, Sask., in the light-heavy class, while Cpl. A. S. Butwilofski, of Luseland, Sask., took a heavyweight decision from Rfn. E. Kalichuk, of Kupar, Sask.

A smooth-passing team coached by famed Sports Columnist Teddy Reeves advanced into the Canadian Army hockey play-downs by winning the championship of an army corps.

Members of a light anti-aircraft regiment, the winners defeated a service corps team, 7-3 and 8-1, to take the best-of-three series in two straight while Gnr. Reeves masterminded from the bench.

The Fort Garry Horse defeated an armored regiment, 8-0, to win the soccer championship of their armored brigade and advanced into the play-offs of a Canadian Army division. Horse team members included R.Q.M.S. Bob Carter, Sgts. G. W. Forgie and G. E. Murray, all of Winnipeg.

Recommendation For the Troops

OTTAWA, March 2 (CP).—An army sports committee has recommended to Defence Headquarters that $1 a head be provided for each soldier for sports purposes and that permission be granted to charge civilians for admission to army sports shows, it was announced here today.

"The big military centres have enough equipment for normal usage and the smaller centres have hardly any," an army sports officer said. "We hope by our proposals to provide enough money to furnish uniforms and equipment for every soldier in the army."

A decision on the recommendations is expected soon, the officer added.

Appeals for Men Who Come Back

Voicing a stirring appeal for "men who are developing responsibilities far beyond their age" and who will find it difficult to make readjustment after the war into civilian life again, Captain M. C. Robinson, O.B.E., addressed Rotary Club yesterday at a luncheon at the Empress Hotel, speaking on "Rehabilitation of Returned Men."

"Let us try to understand their problems, and let us extend to them tolerance, sympathy, understanding, counsel and advice," the speaker urged. "Let us not think of them in terms of responsibilities. They will become the greatest asset the country has. Extend a real hand of fellowship," he said.

Capt. Robinson, Western national director for the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, and himself a veteran of the last war, opened his remarks by paying tribute to club members "who are exemplifying Rotary." He spoke of the impact of 1,500,000 now engaged in war services on the labor market of the future, and referred to the advisory council established in Ottawa which deals with plans submitted to the council.

Capt. Robinson, with facts and figures at his finger tips, related the rehabilitation measures planned and being enacted. He told of the provisions made discharged men and women; the reinstatement of the employee, and the provincial promise of personnel to be employed; he explained the Land Settlement Act, and told of the various loans. He also spoke of training and completion of university education available to demobilized men and women.

"I feel the Government—this or any other Government—will go further in rehabilitation, and will do the reasonable thing, and I would like to feel as sure that the average citizen of Canada will also do the reasonable thing," concluded the speaker, who was introduced by Joe Doe and warmly thanked by the president, James Little.

Visiting Rotarians were: Dr. T. G. Lathrop, White Salmon, Wash.; H. Murray Crawford, Winnipeg; Clarence Kurcher, Sacramento, Calif.; J. C. Beveridge, Medicine Hat, Alta.; E. H. Franke, Winnipeg; George W. Downey, Winnipeg; R. E. Gibson, Simcoe, Ont.; Roy Bowman, Saskatoon, Sask.; Sher Willows, Calgary, Alta.; William Farquhar, Duncan, V.I.; Harry H. Cooper, Edmonton, Alta.; Louis T. Mervin, Portland, Ore.; W. R. Drynan, Hamilton, Ont.; Art McCulloch, Alberni, V.I.

New Faculty Head Known in Victoria

A brother of the late A. W. Bevan Allen, 1138 Burdett Avenue, Victoria, has added further distinction to an already respected name. He is Sir Hugh Allen, the 74-year-old professor of music at Oxford University, who has occupied that position since 1918.

Sir Hugh paid a visit to Canada several years ago on business for the Royal College of Music and stayed a week in Victoria with his late brother.

Under a new Oxford decision, music is given equal status as a study with history, law and the humanities. A faculty of music will be created so that a student of music will be able to take the B.A. degree with music as his principal subject. This is a feather in the cap of Sir Hugh Allen, who has steadily pressed for the full recognition of his subject. He will be head of the faculty.

Retired Naval Officer Passes

The Salvage Corps sustained an irreparable loss yesterday through the death of Commander J. S. Hincks, superintendent of the Cloverdale Depot, and a member of the board of directors, who passed away yesterday morning.

Commander Hincks gave untiring devotion to the patriotic work carried on by the corps from the beginning of salvage operations in April, 1941, until last November, when he was taken seriously ill.

It was largely due to his untiring efforts and personal popularity that the salvage work proved so successful, and his passing is deeply regretted by fellow workers and all with whom he was in daily contact.

Commander Hincks was born in Yorkshire, and was in his 60th year. Trained on the old Britannia, he was a reservist living in British Columbia when the first Great War began. Called up, he served in the Royal Navy and after the Armistice returned to Canada.

He first reached Canada in 1907 and lived in the Interior on his return from England in 1920, coming to Victoria eight years ago.

He was the son of the late Captain and Mrs. Thomas Cooper Hincks, of Berckenbro House, Yorkshire. Mrs. Hincks survives him at the family residence, 1237 Tattersall Drive. He leaves, in addition, a brother, Major Henry Hincks, of Nelson, B.C., and four sisters in England.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors.

City Police Court

Mrs. Madeline Martin was fined $50 and prohibited from driving a car for six months when, through her counsel, J. B. Clearihue, K.C., she entered a plea of guilty to a charge of dangerous driving before Magistrate Henry C. Hall in city police court yesterday.

Police action followed an accident on the evening of February 22 when a car driven by Mrs. Martin crashed into the side of the Belwill Apartments, 2914 Douglas Street, doing damage to the building estimated at $500. The driver was injured and a passenger in the automobile who was also injured is still in hospital, Constable R. Morris told the court.

Mrs. Martin was fined an additional $5 when she pleaded guilty to driving a car without a driver's licence.

Charged with dangerous driving as the outcome of an accident in which police said his car crashed into a hydrant on Fort Street, near Fern Street, and broke it off on the evening of February 23, Dr. William D. Higgs was fined $50 and his driver's licence was suspended for six months. Accused entered a plea of guilty through his counsel, Gordon Cameron.

Seven motorists paid fines amounting to $5 on traffic violation counts, and three pedestrians were each fined $1 for failing to obey a traffic signal.

3-PURPOSE MEDICINE

Here's mighty good news . . . If your nose "closes up" at night and makes breathing difficult, put 3-purpose Vicks Va-tro-nol up each nostril.

Va-tro-nol does 3 important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes; (2) soothes irritation; (3) helps flush nasal passages, clearing clogging mucus, relieving transient congestion. It brings more comfort, makes breathing easier, invites sleep.

. . . And remember, it helps prevent colds from developing if used in time.

Seeks Municipal B.C.E.R. Intentions

Failure of the cities and municipalities to supply information asked for by the Premier in connection with the proposed acquisition of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Limited, was expressed yesterday in a letter from Premier John Hart to Mayor J. W. Cornett, of Vancouver, written in reply to a request for an appointment for a committee formed at a recent meeting of municipal representatives.

Premier Hart stated that until the Legislature prorogued it would not be possible to set a suitable date, but that he would be pleased to meet the representatives after that date to hear their proposals. The Premier also said:

"It is regrettable that you are unable to answer any of the questions I asked, or to give me any information regarding the intention of the cities and municipalities with respect to the proposed acquisition of the B.C. Electric Railway Company, Limited.

"Unless you supply information asked for in my letter of January 21, it will not be possible to conduct negotiations on your behalf."

Recommends Lease of City-Owned Property

The city lands and zoning committee yesterday decided to recommend to the City Council at the next meeting that the War Services Committee be allowed to lease, for the duration, a city-owned lot on Fort Street, west of the Hostess House, for the purpose of making additions to the present building.

Major Harold Brown and Capt. Norman Foster, president and secretary of the War Services Committee, met the city committee and stated that it was necessary to enlarge the Hostess House to accommodate the large crowds of service personnel entertained there nightly.

Acting on the request of Straith, Pringle & Ruttan, the committee agreed to recommend the rezoning from a single family dwelling to a commercial area property on the corner of Leighton Road and Bank Street.

Four sales aggregating $1,700 were reported and will be sent to the council for approval.

Nonagenarian Pioneer Dies

James Ogden Grahame, historic link with the old Hudson's Bay Company fur trading days, died Wednesday night, aged 93. He had traveled over most of Canada and far into the North country with his father, the late James Allan Grahame, chief factor of the company, and had lived in Victoria since the beginning of the century.

Born in 1850 at the Hudson's Bay Company fort of Vancouver, Washington, he was the son of James Allan Grahame and his first wife, Susan Birnie, daughter of another well-known H.B.C. man. It is believed he was named for Peter Skene Ogden, outstanding figure in the Northwest.

After schooling abroad, Mr. Grahame joined the Hudson's Bay Company in 1866, becoming junior chief trader in 1877, and in 1879 rising to be chief trader.

Acting as his father's secretary, when the latter was chief commissioner at Winnipeg, he traveled to out-of-the-way places, going by canoe to Hudson's Bay. Both father and son were known as pioneers across Canada.

His father, who died in 1905, had married Susan Birnie at Fort George, and James Ogden was the only son. After his wife's death, Mr. Grahame, Sr., married Mary Work, of the old Work family, in 1860. They lived for some time at Allandale, on part of the Work estate at Hillside.

Fort Grahame, on the Finlay River, through which the Alaska Highway passes, was named for the senior Grahame. It was here that members of the R.N.W.M.P. spent the Winter of 1897-98 on their first trip into Alaska.

Mr. Ogden Grahame married a Hamilton girl, who predeceased him some ten years ago, while posted at Kamloops. At the turn of the century, Mr. Grahame retired and he and his wife made a trip around the world before coming to live in Victoria. His wife was a benevolent person well remembered for her welfare work, but Mr. Grahame was in failing health and lived a quiet life.

There are no close relatives here, other than a cousin, Mrs. Guy Rothwell, in Vancouver, and other cousins living in Winnipeg and in Scotland.

Funeral services will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. from Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel.

U.B.C. Session For Returned Men

Enabling returned men and women to begin or resume their university education as soon as possible after demobilization, a special Spring session of ten weeks is being offered by the University of British Columbia, opening April 24 and continuing till June 30.

Courses covering arts and sciences, applied science and agriculture are offered in six different groups. Students are allowed to select two and in some cases three courses, of three units credit, in which they will be given seven lectures weekly, or a total of 70 lectures per course. Fees are the same as for the Winter session.

Applications should be made before March 31 and an alternate choice indicated; a minimum registration of 80 is required with a minimum of 20 in a course.

Returned men wishing to attend the Summer session starting in July are advised by Dean D. Buchanan, of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences, that if a minimum of 20 desire a course not listed, efforts will be made to provide such a course.

Garbage Collection By-Law Mooted Here

Advocating that a by-law be prepared to govern the municipal garbage collection system and deploring the fact that one does not already exist, Thomas E. Lancaster, city sanitary inspector, has written a letter to Dr. Richard Felton, medical health officer, outlining his reasons for the proposal.

The sanitary inspector has recommended that any by-law enacted regulating the collection of "Household Refuse" should embody the following:

"The owner of every premises used as a dwelling place shall provide for the use of the occupants, a sufficient number of 'regulation type' garbage cans. All such garbage cans shall be located in a suitable and accessible place on the premises.

"That the garbage department be responsible for all matters pertaining to the collection of garbage, and that it be the duty of the officials of the garbage department to enforce the by-law."

The letter will be placed before the health committee which will meet this morning at the City Hall. Alderman (Mrs.) M. D. Christie is chairman of the committee.

Lumber Movies Shown to Lions

"Mill Magic," the title of the film shown by Douglas Flintoff at the Lions Club luncheon yesterday in Spencer's dining-room, was an interesting exposition of the Island lumber industry. Introduced by Lion Arthur Burr, Mr. Flintoff gave a running commentary along with the projection of the film.

Beginning with the first stages, the film showed the rugged men of the timberlands bringing down their giant harvest in the woods. The audience then followed the complete process of operation from the first sharp bite of the axe into virgin timber to the finished product being carried away for shipment to buyers. Actual scene of the film was the familiar mill at Chemainus.

"These men in the mills have to work with rapidity and efficiency," Mr. Flintoff explained. "An interesting fact is the absence of sawdust—huge machines suck this down from below cutting and sawing machines while operations are in progress and the dust is put to use later on."

Mr. Flintoff concluded his showing with a short subject done in silhouette called "The Doctor's Dilemma or the Fatal Stetson," which was as amusing as the title indicates. Thanked by Lion Leo Evenden, Mr. Flintoff promised to "play another engagement" as soon as he was able.

Kinsmen Told of Technocracy Inc.

Wearing the badge and light grey suit of members of Technocracy Inc., A. A. Milligan and O. Corbett, of Victoria branch, last night told Victoria Kinsmen Club of the beliefs of the recently-legalized organization. The meeting was at the Empress Hotel.

Technocrats were volunteers whose aim was "to inform the public of the dangerous situation ahead of them," declared Mr. Milligan. Technocracy, he said, means "application of the methods of science to the operation of the social mechanism." It was not a simple theory.

Mr. Corbett said Technocracy Inc. had a war plan for total conscription and a technological design for the North American Continent, which he described as a unit. The design for North America could not be applied to other continents.

By conscripting men, machines, material and money, Technocrats contended that further debt could be avoided by Canada and that a changeover to a new system after the war could be made possible.

Morris Kersey thanked the speakers. Many questions were asked and informal discussion followed. George Fatt presided.

Want New Buildings

That Duncan Consolidated School Board should submit to the Provincial Rehabilitation Commission an estimate of $65,000 as its requirements for postwar building was the opinion stated by a special meeting of trustees and councillors at Duncan on Tuesday. A resolution to this effect is to be submitted to Duncan City Council and North Cowichan Council.

Pay High Tribute To Young Master

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP).—High tribute has been paid the 27-year-old master of the American tanker Cedar Mills who battled desperate odds for nine days to save one of the world's fastest ships, Le Triomphant, which was escorting the Cedar Mills and a Dutch freighter from Australia to Karachi, India.

Midway in the voyage the destroyer's oil supply gave out and as the tanker attempted to refuel her the oil hose snapped. The Cedar Mills took the warship in tow.

The tow hawser broke in a heavy storm and powerless to make any headway, the destroyer began to settle and the French commander prepared to abandon ship.

Two of the tanker's motor lifeboats were manned with volunteers and dispatched to take off part of the destroyer's crew.

One of the lifeboats was lost, but the crews of the two craft joined in bringing 34 refugees safely aboard the Cedar Mills.

The commander of Le Triomphant then signaled he believed he could keep the crippled warship afloat until morning. At daybreak, 91 more seamen were taken off the warship.

The disabled destroyer again was taken in tow by the Cedar Mills, which made rendezvous with a British cruiser dispatched to the aid of the battered warship.

Fairmiles Weather Heavy Winter Gale

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, March 2 (CP).—Six tiny Fairmile launches pushed their sleek noses into the teeth of the worst maritime blizzard in years, February 24, on sudden orders to supply patrol protection, presumably for a convoy.

The story of the 12-hour, nightlong battle of the little ships and their crews, withheld until now for security reasons, was disclosed today by Naval Headquarters. Details of the job they were asked to do were not given. It was merely disclosed they performed duty normally expected of "big ships."

Manned chiefly by Volunteer Reserve men, the patrol craft suffered no damage in the operations which saw high seas, lashing snow and spray driven by a 50-mile-an-hour wind. Visibility was cut to 200 yards and the period was an anxious one for even the largest ships in the area.

The performance of the motor launches in a storm which saw many marine accidents and ships driven ashore drew the first signal of praise in this war for that type of work. Rear Admiral L. W. Murray, commander-in-chief, Canadian Northwest Atlantic, signaled commendations to the ships, which operate under Capt. J. A. Heenan, of Ottawa.

The motor launches were ordered to sea suddenly in the middle of the night, while the blizzard was at its worst.

The experience of "097" was typical of the buffeting the patrol vessels took. Nearly half the dishes in the mess decks were broken, crashed to the deck in the violent pitching, the commanding officer, Lieut. E. P. Jones, of Edmonton and Halifax, reported later.

VANCOUVER, March 2 (CP).—A Victoria airman, F.O. H. P. Axhorn, is among a group of repatriated members of the Royal Canadian Air Force expected to arrive from Ottawa today. F.O. Axhorn will be accompanied by his British bride.

Apply for Charter

VANCOUVER, March 2 (CP).—Application for a Congress of Industrial Organizations' charter has been made by members of the Vancouver Waterfront Workers' Association, after it was learned other locals of the British Columbia Council of Longshoremen would not join the Vancouver group in seeking C.I.O. affiliation.

Austin Smith, secretary of the Vancouver Waterfront Workers' Association, said today the Victoria local will seek an American Federation of Labor charter with the International Longshoremen's Association, and other locals will keep their present status.

Ashore for Two Days

VANCOUVER, March 2 (CP).—First Royal Navy aircraft carrier manned by Canadians, after being refitted here, ran aground recently on Roberts Bank, near Point Roberts, and remained trapped in the mud for two days before being refloated.

Captain Horatio Nelson Lay, nephew of Prime Minister Mackenzie King, was in command at the time.

The ship was engaged in manoeuvres and while making a turn evidently ran on to an underwater shoal. None of the crew was injured and the carrier suffered little damage.

The ship now has left British Columbia waters for duty in a war zone.

Due to Freak Accident

CAMP BORDEN, Ont., March 2 (CP).—R.C.A.F. officials today described as a "freak" accident the death yesterday of L.A.C. J. W. Moxley, of Hamilton, who suffered fatal injuries when a practice bomb dropped from an aircraft landed on a sloping target and crashed into a hut where Moxley was stationed.

The bomb skidded 500 yards on the icy surface before striking the hut.

Moxley died in hospital. He was to have received his wings next Friday.

Awarded Damages

VANCOUVER, March 2 (CP).—Trespass damages of $450 were awarded in Supreme Court today against International Junk Co., Ltd., to Vancouver, Victoria and Eastern Railway and Navigation Co.

An order for possession of seven Great Northern Railway lots also was made in the railway company's suit to oust the junk company from property it has been using for storage purposes.

New Peak Attained

WASHINGTON, March 2 (AP).—Aircraft production climbed to a new peak rate of 350 planes a day in February, putting the total deliveries in the month ahead of schedule with a total of 8,760 planes accepted, Charles E. Wilson, chairman of the Aircraft Production Board, announced today.

Court Will Decide Battle for Control

VANCOUVER, March 2 (CP).—Battle for control of the Amalgamated Shipwrights, Joiners, Boatbuilders and Caulkers' Union, Local No. 2, has moved into the Supreme Court.

Malcolm Bruce, president, ousted at a meeting of the local, claims that the gathering was illegal. He is asking for a declaration that Edwin Baker, elected as his successor, has no right to office.

Bruce is joined in the action with William Bray, deposed secretary-treasurer, who seeks a declaration that his successor, George E. Brown, is not entitled to the office.

Plaintiffs also ask the court to declare that the meeting of February 20 was void and illegal.

The defendants, in addition to Baker and Brown, include Lawrence Anderson and Bert Smith, business agents.

Anderson and Smith were expelled from office by the executive under Malcolm Bruce. At the February 20 meeting they were reinstated and Bruce was expelled.

What Today Means

"PICES"

If March 3 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 10:15 a.m. until 12:15 p.m., from 2:15 to 4:15 p.m., and from 8:15 to 10:15 p.m. The danger periods are from 8:15 to 10:15 a.m., from 6:15 to 8:15 p.m., and from 10:15 p.m. until midnight.

This should be a good day for you to take Time by the forelock and do some systematic planning for the future. Conditions are apt to arise that will require your making a decision, so do not be wishy-washy about it but concentrate upon it so that you can arrive at a prompt conclusion. A period of reckless spending seems approaching that will eventually involve anyone spending money carelessly and too lavishly in numerous financial difficulties, so if you are wise you will start in being thrifty. This is the time to remember that "by the streets of By and By one arrives at the house of Never," and that "procrastination is the thief of time." Married and engaged couples, and those whose hearts have been tampered with by Cupid, will do well to realize that "philosophy is nothing but discretion," and that it always pays to practice it.

If a woman and March 3 is your birthday, an even disposition, an inordinate amount of ambition, and real ability, should enable you to lead a full, happy, and very useful life. Through your own contriving you should be able to bring a great deal of happiness into the lives of those near and dear to you. You should never be too busy to give considerable thought to your personal appearance, for it may exercise a far greater influence in attracting people to you than you realize. As a restaurant operator, business manager, interior decorator, writer, teacher, trained nurse, dietitian, saleslady, broker, artist, musician, actress, professional dancer, or through your participation in work of a patriotic nature, your consistently good work and earnest efforts should be well rewarded. You appear to be well qualified to make some man very happy, and to win and hold his love and devotion.

The child born on March 3, requires gentle, loving handling, for harshness may have a very bad reaction on its very sensitive disposition. Blessed with a great deal of intelligence and a good memory this youngster should absorb knowledge with ease. Well merited success will, in all likelihood, crown this child's future efforts.

If a man, and March 3 is your natal day, if you will really try to place some restraint upon a father impetuous disposition, your happiness is apt to be greatly increased. Through clever initiativeness you are apt to win recognition and a gratifying amount of success, gratifying amount of success, clergyman, educator, scientist, architect, engineer, business executive, salesman, actor, author, journalist, manufacturer, merchant, financier, active participant in the present war, or engaged in work of an artistic nature.
